Public Hearing Instructional Time Models

For Board: Action Discussion Information

Background –

HB 2862 requires school districts to have two public hearings on alternative models of instruction for online schools.

HB 2682 allows a school, in its adopted instructional time model, to deliver the annual required instructional time or hours to students through any combination of:

- a) Direct instruction (presentation of academic content to students by teachers, such as in a lecture or demonstration)
- b) Project-based learning (engages students in solving a real-world problem or answering a complex question and demonstrating their knowledge and skills by creating a public product or presentation for a real audience)
- c) Independent learning time (when students are working without direct teacher input and includes work on educational programs, independent reading, homework, etc.)
- d) Mastery-based learning (a system in which students advance to higher learning levels upon demonstration of concept and skill mastery, regardless of time, place or pace)

HB 2682 also instructs a school to align its attendance policies to reflect the instructional time and hours under its adopted instructional time model.

The district is recommending the governing board adopt instruction time models for Clarendon, Encanto, OMS, Longview and Solano Schools for the 21-22 school year. Attached are the developed attendance procedures for those students who chose to complete their annual instruction minutes via the new instructional time models.
