“The Prince” Summer Reading Assignment

Directions:

1) Read The Prince Reading should be completed by the first day of school (you can purchase the book on Amazon or any online bookstore). It does not matter which translation you utilize. Please note: during the reading of the novel you must be able to mark it up with questions and thoughts related to your understanding so please make sure you are doing this while reading the novel.

I have included links below to PDFs of all items you will need for the assignment and a video that will help you understand the novel:*

- The Prince:

2) The following written assignment will be turned in after our Socratic Seminar.

- For each chapter write 3 questions/observations you have about the novel.

- For each chapter write 1 quote you would like to discuss further with your fellow classmates or that sheds insight on the issue. You must try to explain the quote's meaning directly after the quote. It is ok to be wrong, as long as you try.
- During our Socratic Seminars (first full week of school) you will use your questions and quotes to unravel the novel.
- Note: The first half of the novel is hard to get into and difficult to understand... However, the second half of the novel is well worth the wait!
- *We will turn this assignment in via Google Classroom once the school year starts. Students that completed the hardcopy assignment can scan said assignment in order to turn it in via Google Classroom. However, if I can not read your handwriting I will not be able to grade it.
