6. INFORMATION ONLY ITEMS

6.A. Summary of Current Events

6.A.1. Superintendent Tenney shared the following current events:

6.A.2. Governing Board Member Brett Mangum noted, I spent a couple of hours at Granite Mountain Upper Elementary school. I explained that I've been assigned to the school as a member of the board and Mrs. Hughes took me in with open arms. I spent a couple of hours with her and she took me around the classes. I think we went into every class in sixth grade. I wanted to be educated on what is going on there. That was very beneficial for me to continue to learn and to grow as a board member. I appreciate the assignment there and am looking forward to spending more time there. I had an opportunity to attend a number of PHS tennis matches and they went to state. They lost in the first round as a tem, but had a successful season.

Livestream Link: <https://youtube.com/live/F9Rtwl-bZ5s?feature=share>

Jennifer Bergamini noted, I attended the Early College Information, because my son Quinton is going to Yavapai College Early College next year and it was really amazing and I think it is pretty incredible what we offer these students to get that opportunity. Ms. Orr does a phenomenal job and as a parent where you are sending your kid to a college campus at 17, she seems to have a real handle on how to keep them reined in and safe. I'm excited about that. Then, I went to the event last night for the Foundation. As a founding member of the Foundation when we started we hired a consultant out of Texas and she actually told us about an event like this. It is so cool to watch these kids every single year. It was amazing that one of the students graduated with her Associates Degree before graduating with her high school diploma. She also received a generous scholarship to Embry Riddle. I also love seeing the teachers that are honored.

Andy Fraher noted, this week is Teacher Appreciation Week, so we want to say we appreciate all that they do, not only the teachers but all the support staff as well. I've been to a lot of baseball games both varsity and JV as well as tennis matches and it's great to see the excitement around going to state playoffs. On April 12th I was able to attend the Teen Choice Awards which is a new initiative by the Launchpad. The PHS Interact Club was a partner in this effort and they helped determine the categories that were awarded as well as encouraging teens to vote. They had over 320 teens in the area vote on these awards and some of the winners, best social media account was the PHS Student Council, but the runner up was NAPS, which is an account that catches teens napping on campus. Best personnel, School Resource Officer, Officer Holmens, from PHS, best librarian was Miss Jeffreies. The leadership award winner, the highest award, was given to Sophia Brown. She won a $3,000 scholarship from the Ron and Betsy Barnes Leadership Scholarship Fund. PUSD was highly represented in these awards. I volunteered at the Whiskey Off Road, did a radio show, attended an insurance presentation at Mile High and will attend the Northstar breakfast tomorrow.

Jane Roberson noted, I was gone the entire month, I was out of the country. I will say that whenever I travel out of the country, I always like to peek into school to see how they compare to our schools. We do really, really well compared to what I've seen. Also, the issues in both Australia and New Zealand regarding curriculum and what can they do to better improve that, what can they do to pay their teachers more, what can they do to educate the community about what they're doing in schools. So, this is not a PUSD problem, it is not a US problem, it is going on all over the world.

Stan Goligoski noted, I want to recognize Jen Hawley as the teacher that helped Malia Hirasu with her Flinn Scholarship Application. There is a lot of work that goes into that; it's a process and tremendous that she takes the time. That is why she is always highly thought of among our students. She was down in the valley on Saturday for the recognition dinner with Malia's family. Autism awareness month was last month, so we did have the Autism walk at Taylor Hicks, which was an amazing deal. I wore my bracelet all month. The Whiskey Off-Road, a lot of work goes into that but I think it is a well oiled machine at this point and I appreciate everybody's time and muscle. I attended the May Pole celebration at Lincoln that is a tradition that has been going on for over a hundred years. The JROTC Change of Command really inspired me to see all the different veterans organizations that give awards to our students, recognize each one of them. It is important for our community members to see how we do honor our veterans, we do honor those that are in the JROTC program. It gives a lot of hope for our future. I went to the boys volleyball senior night, and then I also attended the Rising Stars Awards banquet.

6.A.3. Governing Board Student Representatives

Karlee Molster noted, I went to Yavapai's Graduation on Sunday and got to see Vanessa walk across the stage and 12 people in my graduating class go to walk across that stage. AP Exams started this week. This week is Teacher Appreciation Week and we had a very successful spirit week, with lots of events with a lot of participation. You mention Sophia Brown earlier, she won Interactor of the year through Interact Club, where she is the president. It is a major accomplishment. Interact is Rotary sponsored so she will receive a lot of benefits for the rest of her life because of that connection. She traveled to Kenya over the summer to help distribute mobility devices and she can continue to do that throughout her lifetime, if she chooses to go. I attended the Peace Pole ceremony at the Food Forest at PHS and I had a hand in making the Peace Pole. I think it is cool that we get to collaborate with different organizations. Abia Judd went on their Grand Canyon Trip which I was able to go on back in the day, when I attended that school. The NHS Talent Show took place and we had a lot of great participation and we raised $600 for the Prescott Area Women's Shelter.

6.B. Community Comments shared with the Governing Board (what comments/concerns do Board members hear from the public in general).

Presenter: Governing Board President, Stan Goligoski

Brett Mangum noted, I have a couple I'd like to highlight. I had a couple lunch hours with community members this month talking about our schools. One of them suggested that we ought to teach how the brain learns and she also recommended that we use more career development. I shared with her a little bit about the CTE program that she didn't know of. She also recommended a Johnson Career Development Exam, I was learning from her and some of the suggestions that she had. I went to lunch with another community member who had some data he shared with me. He brought some graphs and information and his basic point was that students aren't failing but maybe our legislature is, when it comes to funding schools. It was interesting to hear his perspective. He was really discouraged about the privatization of public schools and the voucher system. He also highlighted in his presentation to me that we spend less per student than anywhere else in the country. There were a couple emails sent to the board that if someone else wants to summarize those. I want to say that I appreciate Brian's presentation. I just love data. A lot of constituents are misinformed and it's nice to still be learning how to respond to some of these. I also had emails from two members of our community who were terminated from PUSD, that one I am going to have to learn how to respond better to because I don't know a lot of the details of those personnel issues. I tried to listen and empathize with them, but did not have a lot to say.

I had a meeting with a community member, Mr. Neely and Mr. Tenney. She is a grandparent and has some concerns about PUSD's, Prescott High School specifically, and their dress code. We went over what the dress code actually is and how it is implemented and what it is written the way it's written. I think she was pleased with most of the response and she had some good suggestions. It was a good conversation. We hear the opposite from other people saying they are upset when their kids get dress code violations. Mr. Neely handled it all super well.

Andy Fraher noted I had a couple of emails, I don't know if anybody else got the email from the Lincoln Mom about Trump's latest executive order on using common sense discipline. Clark got back to her and she seemed pretty satisfied with the notion that we are not going to start changing our discipline policies. I don't think she was aware of what we had online as far as what our district does. The other comments talked about, there was one from a former substitute teacher, about teacher dress code.

Stan Goligoski noted, I had an email from a parent that had a lot of data about 4 day weeks, so I read through it. I think it is good information as we are moving forward and looking at what possibilities exist in that regard. I attended a follow up meeting with a parent, someone that is very much an advocate for PUSD. I feel the outcome was very solid.

Superintendent Tenney noted, do you want to bring an item to the next meeting to discuss the Trust Model Policy Program and ASBA's Policy Manual.

Governing Board President, Stan Goligoski noted, let's do a discussion item and maybe share some comparisons like at the retreat.
