Scam Alert: Bowling Green City Schools Warns of Fraudulent Advertising Solicitation

BOWLING GREEN, OH — Bowling Green City Schools has been made aware of a scam targeting local businesses. Individuals falsely claiming to represent the district are contacting area businesses and offering advertising space in our “Progress Reports.”

We want to make it clear: Bowling Green City Schools is not offering any advertising or sponsorship opportunities in our progress reports, and no individual or organization has been authorized to solicit such offers on our behalf.

“All legitimate district fundraising or advertising efforts will always be communicated through our official district channels,” said Dr. Ted Haselman, Superintendent of Bowling Green City Schools. “We take this matter seriously and are actively working with law enforcement to address it.”

The district has reported the incident to the Bowling Green Police Department, and businesses are urged to be vigilant. If you or your business have been approached in this manner, do not provide any payment or personal information. If you have been a victim of this scammer or have information, contact Bowling Green Police at 419-352-1131.

“We deeply regret any confusion or concern this may have caused our community,” said Dr. Ted Haselman. “The trust and support of our local businesses are invaluable to us, and we are committed to ensuring your protection.”
