CATECHISTS NEEDED!

This fall at OLGC, over 300 children and young people will sign up to learn more about Jesus and the Catholic faith. You can help them learn and grow in faith by becoming a catechist for Faith Formation.

We are looking for adults and high schoolers with a desire to teach, and we provide you with training, materials, and support throughout the year.

We have our Catechist meeting and walkthrough on Tuesday, August 19th with classes beginning September 6th.

Similar to last year, we are waiving the registration and sacramental fees for Catechists who are teaching CCF and have students in the program.

If you know anyone who would be interested in being a catechist, please let us know!

Thank you in advance for your consideration, time, and commitment to the growth of Christ's church; this mission is dependent on our Catechists.

Visit olgcv.org/faith-formation/children-youth to learn more or sign up.

"Therefore, go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age."

—Matthew 28:19-20

GIVING UP THE KEYS

Making the decision to stop driving is usually a very difficult one for older people. What's even worse is when our children forcibly take away our car keys after they've seen signs of our diminished ability to drive in a safe manner. It's natural to be angry, even outraged, because we believe not being able to drive is a major blow to our independence, something we're not so willing to give up. However, if we live long enough, coming to this point is inevitable.

A few months ago, I made the decision to give up my car. I'd been thinking about it for a good while, hoping eye surgery would improve my vision enough for me to feel more confident behind the wheel. It did, for a while. But gradually I became less comfortable and aware of small things that began to change my driving experience. One day after a trip to Costco, I just decided to give up those keys. It wasn't hard to do and, surprisingly, I felt liberated. I was reminded of a question often used in decision making: "Is the benefit worth the risk?" The answer for me was a resounding "no." Some things are just more important in certain stages of life, and priorities change as we age. A year ago, I couldn't imagine life without my car, and now I'm glad to be rid of the responsibilities related to owning a vehicle...inspections, repairs, fuel, maintenance, insurance, taxes, licensing, etc.

I'm fortunate to live in an active retirement community that offers so many amenities. Twice a month, Library Resources visits with books, and a medical clinic, pharmacy, bank, hair salons, and fitness centers are on the campus.

Additionally, the community offers a free shopping shuttle service that runs to different areas four mornings a week. I must admit that taking the shuttle takes more time than driving myself, but by planning ahead and allotting sufficient time, I'm able to purchase things I need outside of the big grocery runs with my daughter. I'm also fortunate to have so many caring friends here, younger than I, who generously offer rides to medical appointments and Mass on a regular basis. These acts of kindness have allowed deeper friendships to grow, enriching my life. I'm so very blessed!

These past few months, life has become more serene. I've found I must plan my time better to allow for my needs to be met in other ways, but somehow the quality of life has improved. "Less is more" comes to mind, and so it is with me. It feels like another kind of decluttering.

This process can be vastly different for someone who doesn't live in the supportive environment I do. If you've decided to age in place, know that many services are available through the Fairfax Area Agency on Aging, and the Shepherd's Center of Northern Virginia provides free rides to medical appointments, grocery shopping, and other offerings to area seniors. For those of you who are thinking it might be time to stop driving, don't hesitate...it's not the end of the world! Life goes on, and by thinking it through, there's always a "Plan B." Most importantly, if you make the decision yourself, you're able to maintain your autonomy and, for most of us, that's critical and even empowering. It's much better than having the car keys taken away, leaving us feeling indignant, angry, perhaps disrespected, and somehow lessened by the experience. Living with the choices we make for ourselves is easier than with those imposed on us by others.

I've found I must plan my time better to allow for my needs to be met in other ways, but somehow the quality of life has improved.

For me, the happiest part of this story is that I gave the car to my grandson. That vehicle was the first one I ever purchased on my own and was the best one I ever had...I loved it! Now it's his turn to do the same. He told me that every time he turns the key in the ignition, he thinks of how grateful he is to still have me in his life. It can't get any better than that!

DÉCIMO CUARTO DOMINGO EN EL TIEMPO ORDINARIO (Julio 6, 2025)

Las primeras lecturas para el día de hoy hacen énfasis en la providencia de Dios, y en la necesidad de recibir la cruz de Jesús (nuestros compromisos) si queremos ser partícipes de nuestra nueva creación en Cristo. He aquí algunas de las reflexiones de San Francisco de Sales sobre el valor de la sencillez a la hora de imitar a Cristo:

Nuestro Salvador vino a hacer de la humanidad una nueva creación (IDL 1:10). El amor puro se convierte en el objetivo principal que Dios propone a la hora de crear a la humanidad. La totalidad del cosmos existe para exaltar a Dios, y nosotros, que somos la perfección dentro del cosmos, llegamos a entender este objetivo divino a medida que profundizamos en el amor a Dios. Jamás podremos complacer un mundo cuyo centro no sea Dios, a menos que nos perdamos junto con ese mundo. No importa lo que hagamos, un universo sin Dios se volverá en contra nuestra. Dejemos que este mundo ciego nos llame a gritos todo lo que quiera, como un gato castaña los dientes y maúlla para asustar a los pájaros durante el día. San Francisco de Sales: El hombre, el Pensador, Su Influencia, E.J. Lajeunie, O.P. Los verdaderos valores son firmes y constantes (IDL).

Sean sencillos en el cumplimiento de sus labores. No se dejen amargar ni deprimir por pequeñeces que no tendrán relevancia alguna en la eternidad. Lleven la vida en sus hogares con gentileza, amabilidad y caridad. Ojalá que puedan alcanzar la dicha sagrada, y que su felicidad sea tal que les permita apartar un lugar de descanso para aquellas almas que han de alabar a Dios por siempre. Alaben a este buen Dios con amor, con todo su corazón, ya que este es el llamado sagrado que se les ha hecho, y ofrezcan a Dios el fruto que El desea encontrar en ustedes.

No demuestren desilusión si las cosas no se dan con la prontitud que desean. Dejen eso en manos de Jesús. El pan diario jamás les faltará desde que cumplan con la voluntad de Dios. Saben muy bien que la perfección no consiste en hacer cosas fuera de lo común, sino en la práctica de virtudes sólidas y verdaderas, en mantener plena confianza en Dios, en la amistad, en la compasión, en abrirnos, con prontitud y simplicidad, al cumplimiento de la voluntad de Dios (Joyas de Santa Juana de Chantal).

La sencillez no es nada más que un acto puro y simple de caridad. Como tal sólo tiene un objetivo y un deseo: amar a Dios (Conf. Coneiro, 96-7). La sencillez es una virtud. Las personas que son realmente sencillas pasan su tiempo con el Señor. Aprendan de la paloma cómo amar a Dios en la candidez de su corazón. Las palomas tienen una sola pareja por quien todo lo hacen. Ellas están muy seguras de su amor y se sienten felices al estar en su compañía.
