WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW

- Attendance Laws and Procedures
- SART (Student Attendance Review Team)
- SARB (School Attendance Review Board)

EVERY MINUTE
IN SCHOOL
MATTERS

Two missed days a month adds up to being a half a year behind by the time your child reaches 4th grade.

And once a child falls behind, they rarely catch up.

PARENTS MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

Help your child stay engaged

- Find out if your child feels engaged by his classes and feels safe from bullies and other threats. Make sure he/she is not missing class because of behavioral issues and school discipline policies. If any of these are problems, work with your school.
- Stay on top of academic progress and seek help from teachers or tutors if necessary. Make sure teachers know how to contact you.
- Stay on top of your child's social contacts. Peer pressure can lead to skipping school, while students without many friends can feel isolated.
- Encourage meaningful after-school activities, including sports and clubs.

WHAT ARE SART & SARB MEETINGS?

School Attendance Review Teams (SART) and School Attendance Review Boards (SARB) were established by the California legislature in 1975 for the purpose of:

- Making a better effort to meet the needs of students with attendance and/or behavioral problems.
- Promoting the use of alternatives to the Juvenile Justice system.

HOW ARE STUDENT'S AND THEIR PARENTS REFERRED TO SART OR SARB?

Referrals to SART & SARB are made when school administrators identify students as having chronic attendance problems, truancy problems, or behavior problems which cannot be resolved at the school site level.

WHAT HAPPENS AT A CONFERENCE MEETING/SART?

Conference or SART meetings are informal meetings usually held at your child's school site. The team that meets is typically the school Principal or designee, the parent, and when age appropriate, the child. This small group meets in an attempt to assist parents in correcting the attendance problems in an informal setting. Parent and student are typically placed on a SART Contract at this meeting.

WHAT HAPPENS AT A SARB MEETING?

SARB panels typically include representatives from the student's school site, an administrator from the district office, and may include but are not limited to:

- Representatives from local child welfare services,
- Local law enforcement,
- Community based organizations,
- County Behavioral Health services,
- District Attorney's Office and
- County Probation.

SCHOOL & DISTRICT STAFF ARE HERE TO HELP

School District's do not wish to see parents prosecuted under ANY criminal charges and are legally bound to assist parents, whenever possible, in correcting school attendance problems. The District's Child Welfare & Attendance Office will assist you in making connections with all District and Community resources that might help you to correct your child's attendance and/or behavior problems. For additional resources, see reverse side of flier.

WHAT IS VIOLATION OF CA PENAL CODE 270.1?

California Penal Code 270.1 states, in part, that parents of students who have been absent more than 10 percent of the school year may be prosecuted under misdemeanor criminal charges. If convicted under CA PC 270.1, parents face fines of up to $2,000 and parents may be sentenced to serve up to one year in county jail.

WHAT IS VIOLATION OF CA PENAL CODE 272?

California Penal Code 272 states, in part, that any person (including a parent) who commits any act or omits the performance of any duty, which causes a minor child to miss excessive amounts of school, can be prosecuted under misdemeanor criminal charges. If convicted of CA PC 272, parents face fines of up to $2,500 and parents may be sentenced to serve up to one year in county jail.
