Resource Specialists can help you sort through your options and make informed decisions during difficult, often confusing times. Call us today to talk to an Aging and Disability Resource Specialist!

Why call the Aging & Disability Resource Center?

Aging and Disability Resource Centers are the first place to go with your aging and disability questions. ADRCs are “information stations” where individuals can obtain accurate, unbiased information related to aging or living with a disability. The goal is to help people maintain their independence by connecting them with the right resources.

Who does the ADRC serve?

- Older adults (60+)
- Adults with disabilities
- Children with disabilities as they transition into adult services
- Caregivers and concerned family members, friends and guardians

We will talk with you wherever it is most convenient—in our office, in your home, over the phone or computer.

Our services are available free of charge and always confidential.
