Robert O'Leary Appointed New Athletic Director For Medford Public Schools

MEDFORD- Medford Public Schools is excited to welcome Robert O'Leary as the district's new Athletic Director.

O'Leary joins Medford after serving as the Director of Athletics and Physical Education for Weymouth Public Schools the last six years. He was named the 2023-204 Massachusetts Secondary Schools Athletic Directors Association (MSSADA) District 7 Athletic Director of the Year and currently sits on the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association (MIAA) Sports Medicine Committee. With over 25 years experience working in education, O'Leary has also held Athletic Director positions in Winthrop, Saugus and Portland, Maine.

"I am excited to be joining as the new Athletic Director for the Medford Public Schools," said O'Leary. "I will look to continue to build on the storied history of the Mustang Athletic Department. I cannot wait to get started and meet all of our families in Mustang Nation! Go Medford, Beat Malden!"

As Athletic Director, O'Leary will oversee the operations and coordination of the Medford Public Schools Athletics program, including both Middle School and High School sports. He will work alongside district staff members to lead the management of athletic facilities, coaches and the Medford Community Schools program. He will also collaborate with school staff to ensure appropriate student-athlete health and safety procedures and academic compliance.

O'Leary joins Medford after two rounds of interviews with district and school administrators, Mustang coaches, athletic trainers, community members, current student athletes and members of the Medford School Committee.

In addition to his over 15 years of Athletic Director experience, O'Leary holds a certification from the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association (NIAAA) and has held high school coaching positions in various sports including hockey, baseball, and lacrosse. He currently resides in Suffolk County with his wife Andrea and two sons Colin and Ryan.
