NJ FAMILYCARE

Affordable health coverage. Quality care.

Philip D. Murphy, Governor
Tahesha L. Way Lt. Governor
State of New Jersey

CHILDREN and ADULTS UNDER AGE 65

NJ FamilyCare is publicly funded health coverage for NJ residents. It provides free or low cost quality health care. The NJ FamilyCare program includes CHIP, Medicaid and Medicaid expansion populations.

What's Covered?

NJ FamilyCare offers full health care coverage through health plans contracted by the state.
NJ FamilyCare covers most health care needs including:

- doctor visits
- prescriptions
- lab tests
- x-rays
- hospitalization
- dental
- eyeglasses
- mental health services
- specialist visits
- autism services
- community doula services
- help with personal care needs

Who is Eligible:

Qualified NJ residents of any age can be eligible for NJ FamilyCare. This includes children, parents, caretaker relatives, and adults without dependent children. Eligibility is based on the income and household size that was reported on applicant's latest federal tax return. However, NJ FamilyCare can use other sources, such as pay stubs, to verify information. Income eligibility for children is higher than income eligibility for adults. (See chart)

What Does it Cost?

For many people, NJ FamilyCare will cost nothing.

For higher income families with children there is a sliding scale for copayments.

Are There Any Restrictions?

Children under 19 can qualify for NJ FamilyCare, regardless of their immigration status. Pregnant women who are lawfully present can qualify, regardless of the date that they entered the U.S.
In general, immigrant adults must have Legal Permanent Resident status in the U.S. for at least five years in order to qualify for NJ FamilyCare. Some immigrant adults can qualify if they are lawfully present, regardless of when they entered the U.S. Examples are refugees and asylees, and there are others. Immigrants age 19 and 20 who are lawfully present and have very low income can also qualify.
