

inclusive by design:

From Data to Design

Turn data into decisions that matter – start with insight and end with impact.

Literacy Instruction for Multilingual Learners

Strengthen literacy instruction for multilingual learners with strategies that build on language strengths, support development, and foster inclusive environments.

Understanding Reading Difficulties

Identify early signs of reading difficulties and discover how to spot early reading challenges and use data to drive effective, skill-based supports.

Engaging Families with Screening Data

Build confidence in sharing results, addressing concerns, and offering practical, strengths-based strategies that connect home and classroom support.

This session supports pupil screening and the implementation of an approved screener to inform instruction—focusing on multilingual learners, engaging families, and addressing reading difficulties.
