ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

The job of the administration and faculty is not an easy one. Our education and development is in their hands. Many times they give up much spare time for our benefit. Teaching is a field, I'm sure you will agree, that has few disappointments and much satisfaction. Some have worked and taught here a long time and some are just starting, but no matter how long they have worked they all have one goal— to educate.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. Vernice Hildebrandt has been superintendent of W. H. S. since 1958. During these years he has had a tremendous influence on the students. The ones out of school and on their own have not forgotten him and those still in school will not forget him after they leave. He has shown warm feeling towards the students and has been of great assistance the many times that we needed him.

SECRETARY

Mrs. Mary Jane Doyle could many times have been called a lifesaver by many a grateful student. She has saved classes from mass confusion in their money matters. Her speed and efficiency as a secretary have kept the affairs of the school in perfect order.

PRINCIPAL

This is only Mr. Alvin Quiring's third year as principal at W. H. S. but during this time he has done a tremendous amount of work. He has introduced new ideas that have improved the school. He has been very helpful in guiding students in their selection of courses.

SENIOR CLASS MEMORIES

The Senior Class of 1967 wishes to express its thanks to the many teachers who have given their time to increase our education and ready us for life in the future.

Twelve years seems like a long time, but when you think of it, it really isn't. Grade school was a great time in our life. Hayrides and parties dominated most of our time then, but before we knew it high school was here. Then the fun began! As green freshmen we were low, uncouth, uneducated kids who owed a lot to the ones who graduated before us. The experience gained and the knowledge learned is all due to the hard work and wisdom of the faculty of Wall High.

SENIOR CLASS MEMORIES

As silly sophies we matured not only in body but in spirit. It was the year of suffering English II and disecting in biology. Time passed and the jolly juniors was our name. The Prom and class play dominated most of our time as we worked hard to earn money so we could give the seniors a good time. Now we are seniors supreme and have made it through a year of hard study, term papers, gov't tests and the thrill and excitement, yet the sadness, of our last year Homecoming game.

We must thank our music teachers, coaches and the people who directed our extra-curricular activities.

There are many of us who have participated whole-heartedly in these activities.

We want to thank the juniors for a beautiful and exciting prom and a very tasty banquet. Our graduation, we will admit, was of a different type, but we looked upon it as a happy and glorious time which marked another stepping stone in our life. It put us closer to the gates of success. The knowledge and experience we have gained is owed to Wall High School.

As a money raising project, the junior girls challenged the senior girls in a basketball game with the boys as the cheerleaders. The juniors honored the Senior Class by presenting them with the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom on May 6. "Isle of Golden Dreams" was the theme.

NEWSPAPER STAFF

Pictured above is the group of students that have been successful in publishing an interesting and well-written newspaper. Each had his job (reporter, typist, editor) and each did it. The co-editors did an especially good job in seeing to it that all school activities were included and that the paper was well arranged. We can thank this staff for our monthly editions of "The Eagle."

The Wall High School annual staff has labored many long, hard hours in an attempt to produce a successful annual. They feel that their time and effort have been well rewarded with an annual that the students will cherish as a memory of their high school days for many years to come.
