

Elementary Classroom

FranklinCovey Insights™ Leader Guide:

Lily's Missing Red Paint (6:35)

Summary

In this episode, we find the friends of Seven Oaks preparing for Red Day at school. Each of the friends is doing something special. Lily Skunk plans to add red apples to her painting but she has a problem- she cannot find her red paint. Although Allie tries to help her, Lily won't listen. After accusing her friends of borrowing her red paint without permission or even stealing it, Lily finally listens to Allie and realizes that she had her red paint all along.

Lower Elementary:

What to Watch for While Viewing

This video is about the importance of listening. As you watch, look for the problems Lily Skunk had because she wouldn't listen to her friends.

Key Questions

1. What was Allie trying to tell Lily?
2. What happened because Lily didn't listen to Allie?
3. Lily accused her friends of taking her paint. How did that make them feel?
4. At the end, Lily apologized to her friends. Why was that important?
5. What did you learn from this video?

Upper Elementary:

What to Watch for While Viewing

In this video, we are going to learn how poor listening skills can hurt feelings and even make things more difficult. As you watch, think about what happened because Lily Skunk didn't listen to her friends.

Key Questions

1. Why do you think Lily didn't listen to Allie?
 2. How did her not listening to Allie make things more difficult for her?
 3. Lily accused her friends of borrowing or even stealing the paint. How do you think that affected their relationship?
 4. Why was Lily's apology so important to her relationships with her friends?
 5. What did you learn from the video?
-

Application

Ask, "How can you use what you learned in your own life?"

Lead students to recognize:

- Listening shows people we care.
 - Other people have ideas that may help us.
 - Apologizing helps heal relationships.
-