Guide: A Place for Everything (7:48)

Summary

In this episode, Jumper wants to play basketball but he cannot find his shoes. With Goob's help, Jumper learns that being organized means having a place for everything and putting everything in its place. Jumper learns that by being able to find things, he has more time for important things - like basketball!

Lower Elementary:

What to Watch for While Viewing

Have you ever wanted to play outside but couldn't find your shoes? Well, that's exactly what happens to Jumper in this video. As we watch, think about what Jumper learns about having a place to put all of his things.

Key Questions

1. Why couldn't Jumper play basketball with his friends?
2. What important lesson did Goob teach Jumper about finding stuff?
3. Why is it important to be organized and "have a place for everything and everything in its place"?

Upper Elementary:

What to Watch for While Viewing

Being organized takes time and commitment. In this video, Jumper finds out the hard way that the better organized he is, the more time he has for the things that are important to him.

Key Questions

1. What important lesson did Goob teach Jumper about finding stuff?
 2. Why is it important to "have a place for everything and everything in its place"?
 3. Compare how Jumper felt when he couldn't find his shoes to how he felt once his things were organized.

Application

Ask, "How can you use what you learned in your own life?"

Lead students to recognize:

- Being organized saves time and frustration.
 - When we have more time, we can spend it on things that are important to us.
