

Students Use of Exclusionary Time Out Settings

The Board of Education (Board) recognizes that the use of exclusionary time out may be an effective method of behavior intervention for some students. A time out setting used for an exclusionary time out is an area for a student to safely deescalate, regain control, and prepare to meet expectations to return to his/her educational program. The time out setting offers a quiet place to be used when students are overwhelmed, experiencing over-stimulation or are out of control.

Definitions

Exclusionary time out means a temporary, continuously monitored separation of a student from an ongoing activity in a non-locked setting, for the purpose of calming such student or deescalating such student's behavior.

Seclusion means the involuntary confinement of a student in a room, physically prevented from leaving. Seclusion does not include an exclusionary time out.

Physical restraint means any mechanical or personal restriction that immobilizes or reduces the free movement of a person's arms, legs or head, including, but not limited to, carrying or forcibly moving a person from one location to another. Excluded from this definition is briefly holding a person in order to calm or comfort the person; restraint involving the minimum contact necessary to safely escort a person from one area to another; medical devices including but not limited to, supports prescribed by a health care provider to achieve proper body position or balance; helmets or other protective gear used to protect a person from injuries due to a fall; helmets, mitts and similar devices used to prevent self-injury when the device is part of a documented treatment plan or individualized education program pursuant to Connecticut's special education laws or prescribed or recommended by a medical professional and is the least restrictive means to prevent such self-injury or an exclusionary timeout.

Types of Time Out

A time-out is a behavioral support strategy in which a student temporarily separates from the learning activity or classroom, either by choice or by staff direction for the purpose of allowing the student to calm down/deescalate behaviors.

There are two kinds of time-out:

- Inclusionary - when a student is removed from positive reinforcement or full participation in the class while remaining in the class. The use of inclusionary time-out functions as a behavior support strategy while allowing the student to remain fully aware of the learning activities in the classroom.
- Exclusionary - when a student is separated from the rest of the class through complete visual separation or actual physical separation.

Time-out is utilized to allow time and space away from peers for an agitated student to calm down. Time-out is not used for punishment or discipline.

Use of Exclusionary Time Out Setting/Space

If a time out setting/space is to be utilized it must be used as a behavioral intervention strategy that is designed to teach and reinforce alternative appropriate behaviors in which a student is removed/prompted to a supervised area or setting in order to facilitate self-control or when it is necessary to remove a student from a potentially dangerous situation and for unanticipated situations that pose an immediate concern for the physical safety of a student or others.

The Board has adopted and implemented the following policy and procedures governing school use of time out settings/spaces as part of its behavior management approach consistent with P.A. 18-51.

At a minimum, the use of exclusionary time out settings/spaces shall be governed by the following rules and standards:

1. The Board prohibits placing a student in a locked room or space or in a setting where the student cannot be continuously observed and supervised. The time out space shall be unlocked and the door must be able to be opened from the inside. The use of locked rooms or spaces for purposes of time out or emergency interventions is prohibited.

Staff shall continuously monitor the student in a time out setting. The staff must be able to see and hear the student at all times. At least one school employee must remain with the student so that the student and the staff member can communicate verbally throughout the time out.

Under no circumstances shall a time out setting/space in a school program be used for seclusion of the student, where the term "seclusion" is interpreted to mean placing a student in a locked room or space or in a room where the student is not continuously observed and supervised.

2. Factors which may precipitate the use of the time out setting/space:
 - a. Student fails to respond to less severe interventions (behavior that cannot be controlled through interventions short of isolation in the designated time out space or room)
 - b. Behavior that is severely disruptive
 - c. Dangerous behavior that presents a risk of injury or harm to that student or to others
 - d. Behavior that is dangerous or presents a risk of significant property damage.

The designated time out setting/space shall not be used for punitive purposes, for staff convenience or to control minor misbehavior.

3. Time limitations for the use of the time out setting/space:

A student should remain in the designated time out setting/space only for the time necessary for the student to compose him/herself sufficiently to return to the classroom with minimal risk that the behavior will quickly reoccur, in the opinion of school staff monitoring the intervention.

School staff shall not keep a student in the designated time out setting/space for more than 30 minutes at a time.

If, at any point during the student's stay in the designated time out space, the building Principal or his/her designee believes that the student cannot be maintained safely even in that setting, the building Principal/designee shall call the student's parent/guardian and may also call other emergency personnel to ensure the student's safety.

Further, a student's IEP/504 shall specify when a behavioral intervention plan includes the use of a time out setting for a student including the maximum amount of time a student will need to be in a time out setting as a behavioral intervention as determined on an individual basis in consideration of the student's age and individual needs.

When it is decided through the program planning process to use a time out setting as a behavioral intervention, it should be clearly articulated in the planning what will be done if the student refuses to comply with the request to move to a time out setting or if the use of this strategy is not successful in managing the student's behavior. Should staff be required to physically remove the student to a time out setting, it is important that the physical intervention be documented as a restraint and staff follow approved physical restraint procedures.

4. Staff training on the policies and procedures related to the use of time out setting/space shall include, but not be limited to, the following measures:

- a. The Executive Director of School and Family Supports shall be responsible to the Superintendent for establishing administrative practices and procedures for training all District personnel responsible for use of time out.
- b. Specific Training Activities and Programs:
 - i. Staff members working with students who have the use of the time out setting will:
 - Receive full training in the policy and procedures for the use of a time out setting.
 - Participate in work sessions to review each student's Behavior Intervention Plan and receive specific instruction in the implementation of the plan.

5. Data collection to monitor the effectiveness of the use of time out settings/spaces:

The District shall establish and implement procedures to document the use of time out space, including information to monitor the effectiveness of the use of the time out space to decrease specified behaviors. Such data may be subject to review by the State Education Department (SED) upon request.

Such data collection should appropriately include, but is not limited to, the following information:

- a. A record for each student showing the date and time of each use of the time out setting;
 - b. A detailed account of the antecedent conditions/specific behavior that led to the use of the time out setting;
 - c. The amount of time that the student was in the time out setting; and
 - d. Information to monitor the effectiveness of the use of the time out setting to decrease specified behaviors which resulted in the student being placed in the setting.
6. Information to be provided to parents:

Parents will be notified if their child utilized a time out intervention. Minimally, whenever a time out setting is used as an emergency intervention the parent shall be notified of the emergency intervention. Such notification will be provided the same day whenever possible. The use of a time out setting must be included on the student's IEP.

The School District shall inform the student's parents prior to the initiation of a behavioral intervention plan that will incorporate the use of a time out setting for a student and shall give the parent the opportunity to see the physical space that will be used as a time out setting and provide the parent with a copy of the school's policy on the use of time out settings/spaces. A student's behavioral intervention plan cannot include the use of seclusion as a behavior intervention strategy, where seclusion is understood as the confinement of a student to a room or space in which they are physically prevented from leaving.

Parent reports of alleged inappropriate interventions used in a time out setting should be directed to school administrators.

Physical Space Used as a Time Out Setting/Space

The physical space used as a time out setting must meet certain standards:

- a. The area shall provide a means for continuous visual and auditory monitoring of the student. (Staff assigned to monitor the time out area must be able to see and hear the student at all times and be able to communicate verbally with the student throughout the time out.)

- b. The space or setting used for an exclusionary time out must be appropriate for calming or deescalating the student's behavior.
- c. The area shall be of adequate width, length and height to allow the student to move about and recline comfortably.
- d. Wall and floor coverings should be designed to prevent injury to the student, and there shall be adequate lighting and ventilation.
- e. The temperature of the area shall be within the normal comfort range and consistent with the rest of the building.
- f. The area shall be clean and free of objects and fixtures that could be potentially dangerous to a student and shall meet all local fire and safety codes.
- g. The setting must be unlocked and the door must be able to be opened from the inside at all times. The use of locked rooms or spaces for the purpose of time out is strictly prohibited.
- h. The setting must not be blocked by any physical or staff means and the student must not be physically prevented from leaving the time out setting.
