

At the high school level, supplies vary by the course, and these are captured in the syllabus students will receive at Open House for each of their classes.