challenging phase smoother for your child in Grades 6-8

ARTS

Our arts program not only provides top-tier instruction in visual arts, music, dance, and drama but also offers opportunities for students to showcase their talents on a national level, engaging with peers from across the country in creative and performing arts competitions. This fosters holistic development and inspires a passion for artistic expression while empowering students to explore and innovate in their own unique ways.

Teachers

An AISK Middle School teacher is a trained specialist for this age group - they know just how to foster both academic and emotional growth during these in-between years. We select our Middle School teachers based on their ability to be academically rigorous and empathetic, while instilling a sense of independence in your child.

Learning in Middle School

We have adopted the American Middle School strategy to provide our 'tween' students with the time and space to address social and emotional growth while building an academic foundation for higher grades. It is important that students begin to engage in the world around them with issues and ideas that have both local and global significance. The engagement propels students to think critically and creatively, as they become true global citizens.

Strong Academics

Students engage in 8 core subject areas:

- English
- Mathematics
- Science
- Social Studies
- iRise
- Creative Arts
- Phys Ed
- Modern Languages

An integrated approach enables students to see and experience the relationship of these subjects and how they apply to everyday life and living.

Middle School students are not limited in thinking about their future.

STEM

STEM is integrated into our curriculum through Project Based Learning. (PBL). This is not simply “doing projects” but involves in-depth inquiry based learning across a range of subjects, forming driving questions and challenges. In the face of rapid technological change, AISK's STEM Program is designed for students to think freely across disciplines, engage with difficult real-world questions, and collaborate in designing solutions.

AISK recognizes that “being in the middle” calls for a different approach to teaching and learning.

Athletics

Our Hurricanes' Sports program is designed to develop technical skills and character through a variety of sports teams and competitions. AISK's middle school students have the opportunity to compete both in local and regional competitions.

At AISK, we foster growth through our iRise program, a comprehensive course incorporated into the curriculum. Prioritizing holistic student support, iRise is designed to address academic, social, and emotional needs, empowering students with essential skills and personalized guidance in a nurturing environment. Committed to seeing students flourish, we cultivate confidence and resilience, ensuring success in both school and life.

Learning should never be limited to the four walls of a classroom.

Classroom Without Walls

At AISK, we facilitate opportunities that allow our students to engage with the Kingston environment. Kingston becomes the classroom in the “Classrooms Without Walls Program” allowing students to deeply explore learning through experiences, including local field trips and community service opportunities. Our regional and international field trips include Global Issues Network (GIN), robotics, drama, football and language and culture trips

HEAR FROM A PARENT

Rabina McKenzie
AISK Middle School Parent

My son is enrolled at AISK, and I'm incredibly satisfied with the education and support he's receiving. Seeing him transition with growth and increased confidence brings me great comfort as a parent. AISK's commitment to sanitary measures, safety protocols, and security is exemplary. Choosing AISK was an easy decision for me, and I have no doubts or regrets after discovering it on Facebook.

Omar & Lezanne Azan
AISK Middle School Parents

AISK teaches children in the way that they learn best. Their experienced teachers and flexibility in teaching methods, critical thinking, social activities, use of technology and being in a safe environment brings out the best in our son and is a great fit for us.
