Building Community Through Connection: Kickback Kickoff and Community Conversation at Pittsburgh King

On Thursday, July 24, Pittsburgh Public Schools hosted a vibrant and well-attended Community Kickback and Conversation at Pittsburgh King PreK-8. Families, students, staff, and community members came together for an exciting evening filled with delicious food, lively music, and engaging activities for all ages. The event also offered valuable resources and updates, including information on student enrollment, job opportunities, the summer reading program, and more. Many PPS departments played a key role in supporting the event by providing helpful information, resources, and real-time support to families throughout the evening.

Later that evening, a Community Conversation was held at Pittsburgh King, where District leaders shared highlights on the Future-Ready Facilities Plan and welcomed open dialogue. These events give families a chance to connect directly with District leadership in a meaningful exchange focused on transparency, collaboration, and strong school communities. Designed to be safe and inclusive, Community Conversations invite families and community members to ask questions, share ideas, and stay informed about decisions that impact our schools.
