WORKING RETIREE CONTRIBUTION: All retirees working after retirement must pay a working retiree contribution equal to the member contribution rate for the employer. If you are hired as an employee of a PERA employer, the working retiree contribution will be taken directly from your pay as a pre-tax contribution, which will reduce your taxable income. If you are working as an independent contractor, see information at right. The working retiree contribution does not accrue an additional benefit. You are not eligible for a refund of these contributions. The working retiree contribution does not apply to retirees working as state legislators, judges participating in the Senior Judge Program, or certain retirees working for an employer in a position covered by an ORP as provided for by C.R.S. § 24-54.5-101, et seq. (See page 4 for more information.)

EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS ON RETIREES' SALARIES: Your employer must pay employer contributions as well as the Amortization Equalization Disbursement (AED) and Supplemental Amortization Equalization Disbursement (SAED) on your salary or payments made to you for services rendered. This applies to all PERA retirees working after retirement for a PERA employer as an employee, vendor, independent contractor, or consultant, or if you are hired by a PERA employer through a business you own or operate, or through a business owned or operated by an affiliated party. By law, it is the employer's responsibility to pay these employer contributions and they may not be paid as a deduction from your salary or other pay. An employer may reduce the salaries for rehired retirees to compensate for the employer contribution, which is allowed under the law, but may not deduct contributions from the agreed upon pay. Information is from the PERA Working After Retirement rev 2/2016
