

TAKE CARE OF YOUR CHROMEBOOK

Your Chromebook is an important learning tool. For all 7th-12th grade students, taking care of it is your responsibility, and damage may mean repair fees.

Protect your Chromebook. Charge it daily. Use it carefully. Together, let's keep technology working for your learning!

Chromebook Myths — Busted

These are not accidents, and families will be responsible for the cost if they happen:

- “The screen just cracked on its own!”
Screens crack from pressure, drops or rough handling. They don't break by themselves.
- “Keys just fell off!”
Keys pop off when pried or from hard tapping. They don't simply fall off.
- “My Chromebook doesn't hold a charge anymore!”
It needs to be charged nightly. Batteries won't charge themselves.

Daily Expectations

- Bring your charged Chromebook to class every day.
- Didn't bring it? You will use paper and pencil to complete your work that day.
- Report any issues right away to your campus librarian, who will contact your parent/guardian and help get it fixed.
