NEW PHILADELPHIA CITY SCHOOLS

STUDENT SUPPORT TEAM

At New Philadelphia City Schools, we believe every student deserves a strong network of support. Our student services team is here to help ensure all students and families feel welcomed, connected and cared for. Whether you have questions, need resources or just want someone to listen, please feel free to reach out to any member of our team. We're here for you.

School Psychologists

School psychologists conduct psychological and academic assessments to determine eligibility for special education services and help families and school teams understand a student's learning and emotional or behavioral needs. They consult and collaborate with educators, administrators and families to support students' academic, social, emotional and behavioral well-being within the school environment and assist teams with navigating special education processes. They may also provide crisis support, prevention and intervention services as needed.

School Nurses

School nurses ensure students are healthy, safe and ready to learn. They assess and provide direct care, treat various health conditions, manage chronic illnesses, administer medications, maintain accurate medical records, promote mental health and coordinate with families and community resources to help students access healthcare and services.

School Social Workers

School social workers are trained mental health professionals who support students facing mental health challenges, behavioral concerns and crises. They offer individual and group counseling, assist with positive behavioral interventions and support academic and classroom success. Social workers collaborate with teachers, parents and administrators, serving as a vital link between families and community resources. Their goal is to address barriers to learning and help students thrive in school.

School Counselors

School counselors are licensed professionals who support students academically, professionally and socially or emotionally. They help students develop skills for success in school and beyond, addressing academic challenges, career exploration and personal growth. Counselors work individually with students, in small groups and alongside families and teachers to foster a positive learning environment.

School Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA)

School BCBAs provide guidance and support to improve student behavior and learning. They support teachers and administrators by helping develop and implement behavior plans, conducting functional behavior assessments (FBAs) and providing training on Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) principles.
