
Dear Parents and Guardians,

The District prioritizes increased levels of communication between the school district and all of our stakeholders.

Over the course of the past calendar year, we have been working diligently to enhance our website and make it a seamless experience for those who visit.

This work included a group of stakeholders from the community who offered their perspectives and opinions regarding what the community desires in a new website and we've tried our very best to apply that feedback to our new forward facing website.

HERE is a video introducing the new website and some of its features.

As we move forward with this new resource, we fully intend on making enhancements when necessary in order to ensure that the overall experience for our stakeholders is outstanding.

In the coming weeks, the district will also unveil a new app that should improve the end user experience. In the meantime, please utilize our website and ensure that we will solicit further feedback once we have fully rolled out all of the planned features.

You can access our website at the following address: <https://www.shsd.org/>

Sincerely,

Brian Brotschul, Ed. D.
Superintendent of Schools
