Hello TSD Teachers

Last week Employee Access for Qmlativ was opened up. We have now added in the Teacher Access module. You can access the new Qmlativ interface at the district website or through this URL: <https://www.q.wa-k12.net/tumwtr>

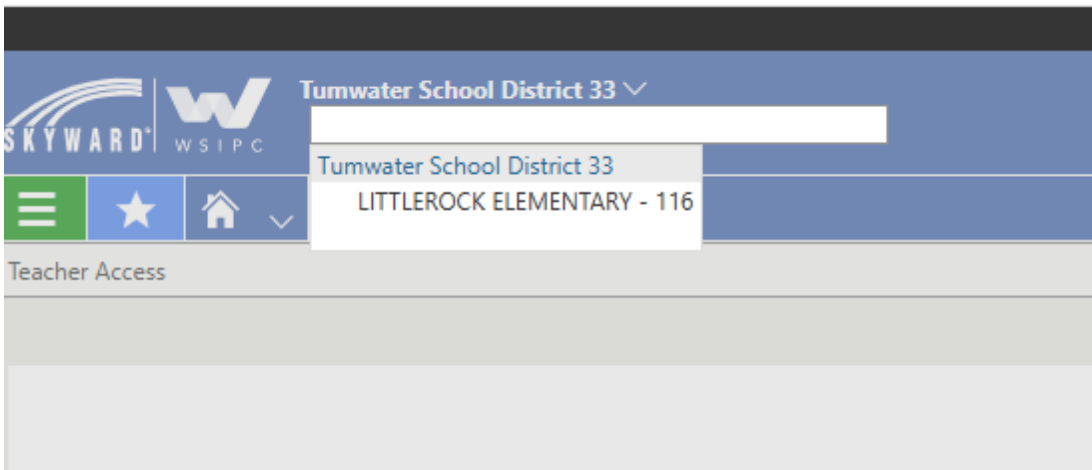

The user credentials to login are the same that you had for Skyward.

I wanted to share a few quick tips if you are interested in exploring the system before the training at Tumwater U.

Once you login if you want to explorer teacher access, you can find through the home button:

You will also need to select your school:

After those two selections are made, your menu will be available to explore teacher access:

When looking at your student list, because the new school year hasn't started, change your filter to say students in Future Classes:

If you are looking at your gradebook, until we start school on 9/3/2025:

Choose “all classes” on the far right, in order to see your current classes. Once we start the school year, everything will be “current” at that time.

We also have videos available to learn more about Q on our website:

The district is excited that we are now operational in Qmlativ and looking forward to the start of the school year.
