These revisions, along with updated templates, will be shared with district leadership in the coming weeks and ultimately brought back to the board for final approval. is that we have not received the May payment for Child Nutrition. This payment was expected last Friday in the amount of $65,890.79. Dr. JeanAnn Gaona, Deputy Superintendent of Academic Affairs reported that summer has not ended educational opportunities for our students. A few over 100 students attended SPARK this year which is our summer elementary remediation and enrichment opportunity. We have also concluded our LEGO camp as well as Camp Invention. Dr. Gaona continued stating that in June of 2025, thirty-three advanced teachers were selected to participate in the very first Choctaw-Nicoma Park Teacher Empowerment Cohort. These educators were chosen based on their leadership, instructional excellence, and commitment to innovation. Over the course of the summer session, they engaged in strategic initiatives designed to strengthen curriculum, integrate technology, support new teachers, and enhance family partnerships. She added that the following were some of the key accomplishments: Developed and aligned district-wide pacing guides (First Grade and High School Math); Integrated Social Studies standards into ELA instruction at the elementary level; produced instructional resources and videos for early math and phonics skills; explored and implemented the use of Artificial Intelligence tools in both elementary and secondary classrooms; created resources for classroom management and student engagement; designed a comprehensive New Teacher Academy 2025-26; and launched family engagement projects including the Caregivers as Coaches initiative and early childhood education videos. Dr. Gaona shared that 95.8% of participating teachers reported high satisfaction and a strong desire to continue in similar leadership role. Additionally, the Empowerment Cohort model proved to be a productive and forward-thinking initiative that leveraged teacher expertise to directly impact instruction and community engagement. Plans are in place to continue this model and expand its reach in the 2025-26 school year. In closing, Dr. Gaona reported to the board that she wanted to make them aware that the federal government is currently impounding critical Title II and Title IV funds. This delay will immediately impact our ability to provide professional development for our teacher. This professional development is essential considering that 92 of our roughly 360 classroom teachers are either emergency, alternatively or adjunct certified. Additionally, since a portion of these funds are transferred into our Title I programs, we are now facing potential disruptions to summer school next year as well as site funding in order to protect our reading intervention programs in our schoolwide Title I sites which include Griffith Meridian Elementary, Choctaw Elementary, Nicoma Park Intermediate, Nicoma Park Elementary, Westfall Elementary and Nicoma Park Middle School. The timing and uncertainty of this delay place real pressure on our planning and staffing just weeks before school begins.
