Comments:

It is extremely frustrating to read, "In light of recent events we are switching the board meeting virtual." When teachers and students are in smaller room sizes, more compacted together. I wish there was the same care for the board meetings as there is to the students and teachers in the classroom.

We should return to at home schooling until the omicron spike slows down. There is not enough testing available to help make students and teachers safe during this time.

Schools need to return to remote learning during this recent variant outbreak. They are not safe and there is not enough testing, so schools should close for the next week or so to ride out the spike.

Schools should not be open for the next week or so until the next wave of cases passes. With so many sick kids and not enough tests, we are simply prolonging exposure and increasing cases.

Comments:

We have been in school for almost two weeks and have seen an explosion of cases. I have watched my middle school classes start to dwindle. Not only is it traumatic for students and teachers to watch each other drop like flies, it is also stressful for teachers to keep up with students who are on quarantine. We are teaching two sets of students at this time. I am asking the district to consider a short closure to give students and staff a chance to recover and come back strong. I know that state law does not allow us to go remote at this time, however, many counties are using either built in "air quality" days or "natural disaster" days for this time. It would make sense to go remote after the MLK holiday for a few days to allow students and staff to recuperate. Please rapid test all students and staff upon returning so that students who are still positive can go home and recover. Teachers have been beyond patient this year and agreed to return to school when it is safe. This is not safe and is causing unnecessary for staff and students.

The district should also consider another lump sum as hazard pay. There is a teacher shortage, and we need to try to retain the teachers that we have by appreciating their hard work and sacrifices. If we continue to be pushed to our absolute limits, who is going to teach? Our anxiety is through the roof, and pretty soon we are going to break. Please listen to us and our best judgment- we are the people on the frontlines everyday.

There is not enough Covid testing, and safety measures are inadequate. Schools should not be open until teachers have the resources to keep themselves and our children safe. We know by now that remote learning is an option.

Comments:

We are having a lot of positive COVID cases come up in our district just like the rest of the U.S. and I would like for us to continue to deliver in-person learning. However, the district is not supporting teachers or students with the lack of a clear and required testing policy. Everyone knew there would be a surge, why didn't we have contingency plans? All staff and students should have been required to test prior to returning from the holiday. The types of masks most people are wearing are not adequate to protect against Omicron. Why hasn't the district communicated a plan to purchase KN95 masks for staff and faculty? Why are teachers responsible for purchasing adequate PPE and this recommended by health officials. We also don't have an adequate supply of air filters. Mine broke and the custodian took one from another class. We also need District facilities to be better about temperature regulation. My classroom was 55 degrees the other day because district does not adequately monitor heat on Mondays at SSFHS. It's not awesome to be teaching in a mask AND freezing. Student masks would also be helpful. Why are we also not instructing staff, parents and community members to "lockdown their bubble" so we can keep kids in school? What are we going to do after President's Day and Spring Break?

Comments:

Thank you for ensuring that students and staff have access to testing. Not all districts have planned as well as this one has. Thank you.

Some of my students have family members who are having an exceedingly difficult time finding any sort of COVID test. Understandably, some of my students are worried about their parents possibly having COVID and not really having any way to check. Public testing sites are quite popular right now. Getting an appointment isn't easy. Not all families can afford to routinely buy antigen tests if they can find them. Is there any way we could support families in our community by offering them testing options, too?

Comments:

How can you ask for proof of booster shots from all SSFUSD employees if all your employees aren't vaccinated? You still have employees who haven't even taken the first dose. Seriously, what is going on? The district should be taking all the necessary steps and precautions in order to maintain a healthy and safe environment for everybody.

The SSFUSD Covid dashboard is not accurate. Whoever is updating that site should read the emails from Human Resources and school sites.
