

District Curriculum Accommodation Plan

The Law - What is a curriculum accommodation plan?

Chapter 71, Section 38Q ½

Curriculum Accommodation Plan

A school district shall adopt and implement a curriculum accommodation plan to assist principals in ensuring that all efforts have been made to meet students' needs in regular education. The plan shall be designed to assist the regular classroom teacher in analyzing and accommodating diverse learning styles of all children in the regular classroom and in providing appropriate services and support within the regular education program including, but not limited to, direct and systematic instruction in reading and provision of services to address the needs of children whose behavior may interfere with learning, or who do not qualify for special education services under chapter 71B.

Increasing the Capacity of the General Education Environment

Overview

General education is the door to learning which all students are expected to enter; it should be the goal of every school district to make the general education environment the appropriate placement for all students. Special education should not be a separate program, but rather should be one aspect of a continuum of supportive services and programs that are provided to ensure that the general education environment is a responsive environment.

Working together, general and special educators can provide professional support to each other to address student learning. Teacher mentoring and collaboration are strongly encouraged. Schools can provide a rich curriculum; instructional practices and varied programs of services geared to individual needs; including opportunities for strong family and parental involvement by raising awareness of the educational services in the school.

An effective District Curriculum Accommodation Plan may provide for one or more of the following, to help meet the needs of diverse learners in the general education environment.

- Tiered support services and instructional delivery options available within general education;
- Responsive, flexible curriculum presentation in general education;
- Multiple instructional support strategies;
- Staff time for professional collaboration and problem solving;
- Availability of standardized and criterion-referenced assessment data as one measure of student learning and indicator of student needs;
- Referral services to provide child care, or health care services; and
- Information services for parents to understand school programs and options available for their children.

Barriers that contribute to learning difficulties are not always clearly related to education. School districts must consider addressing barriers related to coming to school ready to learn and conditions supportive of learning in an ongoing way.
