Juniors will attend the "Check It Out" program sponsored by the international medical NGO Hadassah.

- For biologic male students, a program on self-exam to teach early detection of testicular cancer will be held in the Black Box Theater and Band rooms.
- For biologic female students, a program on self-breast exam to teach early detection of breast cancer will be held in the Chorus room.
- Additional health topics will be covered for all participants. Please note that this is not a screening program; it is a presentation on how to perform self-examination in the hope that this will help with early detection.
- For students who are uncomfortable reporting to their biologically assigned room, you may report to room 228 where a nurse will be available to answer any questions or provide resources.
