Dear Lagway Families,

Thank you for your continued support and communication. We know that what students eat during the day matters, and we value your feedback as we work to create routines that keep students healthy, safe, and focused on learning. We also want you to know that we are listening. Several parents have raised thoughtful concerns about snack time, and we have actively evaluated our approach to balance instructional time, student health, and family input. Our daily schedule is carefully structured to protect instructional minutes while also ensuring the safety of students with food allergies, as even small exposures can pose serious risks.

Starting tomorrow, parents may send simple, nutritious, allergy-safe snacks such as crackers, rice cakes, popcorn, etc. Snacks must be nut-free, aligned with school health guidelines, and may not require utensils (spoons, forks, etc.). Non-examples include chips such as Takis, Cheetos, or Doritos, candy or chocolate, or any sugary desserts.

In the past, snack times have created challenges. Some students had snacks while others did not, leading to inequities, and many snacks sent included allergens or sugary items that disrupted health and safety. By setting clear expectations, we can maintain fairness, protect students with allergies, and safeguard valuable instructional time.

Thank you for being an important part of our school community.

Mrs. Wilder
