

I WOULD LIKE TO HELP MY CHILD MAKE CHOICES ABOUT WHAT THEY ARE READING...

1

You are always welcome to meet with your child's principal, teacher, or librarian to discuss your options.

2

You can ask your child's teacher to share the books being assigned for class. If you have concerns, you may request that your child receive an alternate assignment.

3

You can provide the campus librarian with a list of books you do not want your child to check out. The librarians are happy to assist you!

4

If you believe a book is inappropriate for all students (not just your child), you may formally challenge the book.
