PARENTS: We are depending on YOU to ...

- have your student at school each day on time and in correct dress code
- give your student support at home and a quiet place to do homework or online coursework
- participate in decisions about your child's education through parent conferences, parent meetings, committees, digital surveys, parent programs, et cetera
- be engaged in your student's education and ask for help from the school on how to help your student at home
- talk to your student about future plans following high school, including options for college, community college, military service, careers, trade and technical schools, and service work
- monitor your student's grades and online course work completion and encourage him/her toward success
- advocate for the needs of your student- we may not know if you don't share them with us
- celebrate your student's accomplishments and achievements in and away from school

STUDENTS: The school and your parents are confident that YOU will ...

- come to school every day ready to learn
- actively participate in the learning in your classes
- give your best effort at all times to your academic tasks
- seek help from staff when you do not understand or are struggling
- communicate honestly with staff about your needs so that we may help you
- work outside of school to catch up when you are behind
- set small goals for achievement and celebrate when you reach them

We hope you will partner with us this year to provide the very best education for your student. Research shows that when YOU are involved and engaged in the education of your student and give him/her the support necessary to make good decisions about progress made at school, he/she will be successful, perform better on tests, and move forward to participate in post-secondary education.
