What is STARS (Self-Reported Transcript & Academic Record System)?

Formerly known as SRAR/SSAR.

SRAR/SSAR is now STARS. You can still log in with the same email address and password.

STARS LOGIN

- The Self-Reported Transcript & Academic Record System (STARS) allows students to self-report courses and grades completed in grades 9-11 and the in-progress courses for 12th grade.

- Some colleges require the STARS in addition to submission of an application such as The Common Application or the college-specific application.

- Colleges that require the STARS do NOT want a high school transcript with the application but will require a final transcript after graduation if you attend that college

- Some examples of colleges that require the STARS: Penn State University, University of Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Clemson University, Virginia Tech, University of Florida. The complete list can be found here: Which Colleges/Universities Accept The STARS? – Support Center For the most up-to-date information, verify on each college application website for step-by-step application instructions. It will state if STARS is required or if the college requires an official transcript.

CB EAST STARS TUTORIAL

- Follow the screenshots below for examples on completing your STARS if required by your colleges. Create an account here: STARS LOGIN
- You will need access to your high school transcript (available through your Infinite Campus portal under "reports") and your senior year schedule.
- Please note that some colleges (like Penn State) require that you submit your admission application first, then wait for an email/portal invitation to complete your STARS.
- Accuracy is very important! The college you attend will compare your self-reported version with the official transcript from CBSD after graduation.

STUDENT TYPE

MY COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

- Add colleges you want to allow to access your STARS.
- Please note that some colleges want you to complete the admission application first then follow the instructions they provide via email/portal to link your SRAR account.
- Follow all instructions provided by the colleges in the "show details for" tab underneath the college name.

REVIEW/SUBMIT YOUR RECORD

Review/Submit Your Record

Review the data you have entered to ensure it is accurate. If it looks okay, mark it as complete by completing the section at the bottom.

IMPORTANT

You are submitting your complete academic record for the school(s) listed below including coursework in progress. Be sure that the information you provide includes all secondary schools you have attended, and that all courses and grades are included and accurate. It is very important that you carefully review your academic record for any omissions/errors and modify it accordingly now.

Once your academic record has been submitted it is considered a final document and cannot be modified. If you are admitted and decide to enroll, you will be required to submit an official high school transcript that will be compared to your SRAR. Discrepancies and misrepresentations could result in the revocation of your admissions decision and/or the forfeiture of any scholarship awards.
