

What are my rights?

- The families and parents of Title I students have a right, by law, to:
 - be involved in decisions made at both the school and district levels (surveys are conducted twice a year and are utilized for planning purposes, two parent representatives attend the district meeting in the spring).
 - be provided with information on your child's level of achievement on tests in reading/language arts, writing, mathematics, and science.
 - request opportunities for regular meetings to formulate suggestions and to participate, as appropriate, in decisions about the education of your child. The school is required to respond to any such suggestions as soon as practicably possible.
