The screenshot shows the Google Translate text interface. At the top, there are two tabs: 'Text' (selected) and 'Documents'. Below the tabs, there are two rows of language selection buttons. The first row includes 'DETECT LANGUAGE', 'ENGLISH', 'SPANISH', and 'FRENCH'. The second row includes 'ENGLISH', 'SPANISH' (which is highlighted with a blue underline), and 'ARABIC'. An orange arrow points from the left text box to the main input area. Another orange arrow points from the right language selection area to the 'SPANISH' button. A third orange arrow points from the right text box to the 'Translation' output area. The main input area has a microphone icon and a character count '0/5000'. The output area is labeled 'Translation'. A 'Send feedback' link is visible at the bottom right.
