COMMUNICATIONS

1. D. Rabenold – I attended a town Board meeting last night and a neighbor came up to me and said he was going to approach the Town Board about the lack of sidewalks on Sweet Home Road. I think it's North Ellicott Creek to the other side of the bridge, which becomes dangerous. I think it's either a state issue or a town issue, but he wanted me to bring it back to the Board so we can put some pressure on the issue. Mr. Feldmann received an email yesterday about it and will follow up.

2. P. Bellanti – In regard to what has transpired in the District over the past few months, I'd like to assure the community that the Board of Education has been listening and making progress. We formed a small group of Board members and SHEA leadership that met on July 17th and August 14th. We have gone in with an open mind to listen to their concerns. We are planning future meetings and events to help rebuild our relationship with SHEA. We set up parameters for our Board goals for the 25-26 year, which we will bring to the floor at our September meeting.

INFORMATIONAL ITEMS

M. Jasen: In our On Board readings, they mentioned a new law requiring districts to plan for cardiac emergencies. Some provisions need to be taken care of by September 1st, and after talking with Mr. Feldmann and Dr. Wilson, these have been taken care of, and we are ready to move on to the additional provisions due in 2026.

Feldmann: It's been talked about at the superintendent level as well as the business official level. We use a health and safety risk management team and have a gentleman from our safety committee who comes in once a week. They will work through some workshops to make sure that all their component districts are ready to meet the standards. The next step is to develop a plan specific to sudden cardiac arrest.

M. Jasen: Are the AED's locked?

Feldmann: No, there is a plastic zip tie to keep the door closed so the alarm doesn't go off, but if you pull the door open, it will release. When you pull the door open, the AED sits on a plunger, and once that plunger is no longer depressed, it triggers a call to 911. Part of our emergency team training is that someone stays with the person that's fallen, someone goes to get the AED, and someone calls 911. It's been practiced, and we are ready to go.

INFORMATIONAL ITEMS-continued...

S. Johnson: We had a county association of school boards. We had a legislative sub-committee meeting so we could plan for some items this year, and take a look at what we think are still priority items. The discussion points were, do we need to add some or remove ones that got handled? We all had the capital project workshop last month. I also attended a Federal Advocacy webinar where they talked about what's going on at the federal level and money. They seemed confident that we are okay this year, but next year is a whole different story. I forwarded information from the webinar to you. I also attended the WNY Law Conference. I do have stuff to send from that. It was well attended, with over 300 people. Dr. Ginestre was there too, and there was standing room only for several of the sessions. Also, Linda Hoffman passed away. She was an important person in WNY as far as school boards go. She represented the area on the state board for a long time. She was at Erie 2 BOCES for a number of years and was also in the Springfield School District. She put 45 years into education. She'll be missed.

A. Battaglia: Nothing from me.

D. Rabenold: I mentioned this earlier, and he happens to be in the audience. We did talk about the sidewalk issue, and I know Don Feldmann received that. He's welcome to speak at the next open session. Otherwise, relatively quiet summer, enjoying the heat. I watched the video you sent around about the National NYSSBA thing and the Washington Advocacy thing. Someone should go. I'll try to go this year. I like seeing what's going on in Washington, DC, and adding my view of things to the conversations.

D. Anthon: I've been enjoying summer, meeting with SHEA, and getting ready for the new school year.

P. Bellanti: We have been meeting with SHEA and had our Board Retreat. Fall practice and tryouts started yesterday. Good luck to our athletes. We will have our outline for our goals at the September study session.

OPEN SESSION

1. Joseph Voytovich, 35 Bucyrus Drive – One night a week ago, I was coming home north on Sweet Home Road at about 8:45 pm. It was getting dark, and I saw a shadow alongside the road. I noticed a biker there, and just after that, I saw the other one behind him. I was lucky that I wasn't distracted by any other traffic because I was able to move over. Being a biker myself, I see how dangerous that area can be. You have a choice of riding on the road with traffic going 50 miles per hour or riding on the grass, which has ruts. You'd be going over bumps and holes and taking a chance on falling. When I got home, I rode my bike over to the students and talked to one of them as the other had already turned down a side street. He was a high school student, and he said he hadn't had problems with it even though he didn't like it. He had a friend who fell while riding on the grass, trying to protect himself from the curb. I ended up putting my experience on Facebook and had a comment from a mother whose daughter attends the high school, and she said she rides down there and crosses Sweet Home three times to try and stay in line with all the sidewalks, which is dangerous because the traffic goes so fast. I took this to the Amherst planning department, and they forwarded me their procedure. You have to file a petition and have landowners sign it. Owners in that area or Town of Amherst right along the canal. National Grid has a large spot there. They have an apartment building and a private owner but his house is on North Ellicott Creek Road. After you file the petition signed by who knows who, you have to submit it and it's not going to be taken in until next June and then they go through a long process, about 6 months, trying to figure out if the sidewalk is needed and they would put it in the next summer. There's a two-year delay on this. This is a critical need. In the last couple days, I've seen other kids now going down the sidewalk in that area almost every time I go by that road. One kid was pushing an e-scooter. Another one was walking down by there. An older man was walking a dog along there. Since they put the apartments in in 2011, I'm trying to figure out why they didn't at least put sidewalks in front of them. Apparently, there's no real motivation to do that. It's a county road, and the town is supposed to be responsible for putting in the sidewalks. Well, to do that, they have to get an easement from the county for them to put the sidewalks in there.

So, I can see why this thing just keeps dragging on and on. I did talk at the Board meeting last night. I didn't get a whole lot of response on there. So, I was thinking about the high school. Now, you're in charge of all the students from the high school, so you may see a lot of students who go up in that area. If you take a stand on this, go to the town and say, "We need the sidewalks in now." This is a bad time of year. Come September, it's getting dark earlier. There are sporting events going on, with some at night. I also noticed they don't have street lights on that side of the road. Street lights are all on the other side by the business park. Now they're not only squeezing through traffic, but they aren't going to be seen in the dark areas. I ask the school board to take the critical issue on this and make it an urgent need to do it. I was also going to approach the PTA to see if they would get involved. They probably have a lot of kids that are coming through there, and they're worried about their safety there. All it takes is one driver who's looking at his phone, distracted by some other traffic, bumping into somebody, and somebody's going to be hurt or killed. Every time I drive out there and I see somebody, I think about that. I just can't get it out of my mind. Thank you.

2. Jonathan Makeley, resident – I came to speak about a couple of things. Mentioned earlier in the meeting, there have been some talks with the Board and SHEA. I hope as things move forward that it will progress towards some good substantive actions to be able to address the issues at hand and try to improve conditions. Additionally, earlier in the meeting, there was a mention about what would be going on with the position of the high school principal which is a good sense from what I've seen in conversation with other community members. There has been confusion with the public on that and hopefully that will help get a clear sense of what's going on. I would echo the previous commenter as someone who walks around on the sidewalks quite a bit as a pedestrian. I would say that there are some sections along Sweet Home Road that are rather patchy and make it difficult to travel.
3. Jamie Mancine, Glenhaven Drive – I am here on behalf of the Glendale PTA, and I am honored to serve as their president again this year. In an effort to continue collaboration with the community and have you all interacting with your constituents, I wanted to invite you to our first event. We are having our Welcome Back Bash on August 28th from 4pm – 6pm at Glendale. It's one of our biggest events of the year. We had about 400 people attend last year. It's a good time, and it would be really nice to have you there.
4. Joseph Voytovich, Bucyrus Drive – I missed something in my notes. A lot of people argue that bikes aren't allowed on the sidewalks and that they are required to ride on the road. That law dates back to the 1880s. What they had at that time were horse-drawn carriages. The carriages didn't like that and were forcing bikes off the road, and took it to court. New York passed the law in 1887. It states that bicycles are carriages and that cyclists are entitled to the same rights and restrictions as drivers of carriages. That doesn't apply now. A car is not a carriage. A bike can't go 50 miles an hour. A bike can't weigh 5,000 pounds. Putting a bike in the street to me is just looking for something bad to happen. I hope they take that into consideration also. Thank you again.
