

The ideal Don Bosco Cristo Rey student has a focus consistent with the 4 Pillars of a Don Bosco education

FAITH

A DBCR student recognizes that our educational model is faith-based and respects the practice of the Catholic faith at school, even if he or she does not identify as Catholic. He or she actively engages in Theology class, prayer, Mass, and Catholic retreats, considering them to be an important part of his or her education and spiritual journey.

FAMILY

A DBCR student celebrates family, not only by honoring his or her family, but also by willingly participating in life together with the DBCR family; he or she offers compassion, understanding, appreciation, and cooperation to peers, teachers, and staff. While at DBCR, the student strives to learn what it means to “be who you are and be it well” within a supportive, connected environment.

FUTURE

A DBCR’s goal is to attend and finish college and learn job skills through our Corporate Work Study Program. The student is hopeful, open-minded, and conscientious, with a strong, forward-looking work ethic. He or she is dedicated to their studies and seeks help from the community to overcome obstacles.

FUN

A DBCR student loves to play and enjoys hobbies, activities, and extracurriculars, whether that means taking on creative projects or becoming a member of a sports team or club. He or she enjoys taking the appropriate opportunities to share his or her own energy, excitement, spirit, and personality with others.

THE IDEAL DBCR STUDENT IS...

- Hardworking and Resourceful
- Responsible and Determined
- Open-minded and Hopeful
- Conscientious and Compassionate
- Curious and Engaged
- Compassionate and Collaborative
- Diligent and Optimistic
- Convivial and Creative
