

Wilson Central School District:

Each student will have the educational opportunity to reach his or her maximum potential by challenging all students to higher levels of achievement. From the Desk of Tim Carter:

Dear Wilson CSD Families and Staff,

As we move forward in our journey of learning and growth, I'd like to share a thought that speaks deeply to the heart of education and personal development:

"If you want to change your situation, you must first change your thoughts. Because if you keep on thinking what you have been thinking, you'll keep on getting what you have been getting."

This simple yet powerful idea reminds us that meaningful change, whether in the classroom, at home, or within ourselves, begins with the way we think. Our mindset shapes our actions, and our actions shape our outcomes. If we want to achieve more, reach higher, and create better opportunities for our students and families, we must be willing to think differently, imagine boldly, and embrace new perspectives.

Let this be a season of growth, where we support one another in cultivating positive, forward-thinking attitudes. Whether you are a student setting new goals, a teacher exploring innovative approaches, or a parent encouraging your child's dreams, your thoughts matter. Together, let's believe in better, think with purpose, and continue building the future our students deserve. Have a wonderful Spring Break, and enjoy the time with your family!
