PennState Berks

SAT Prep Course

Improve your SAT score with the Penn State Berks SAT® Prep Course

This course focuses on effective strategies for improved SAT reading, math, and English testing performance. Learners will practice essential math concepts, complete in-class reading exercises, edit practice passages, participate in oral discussions, and learn close-reading techniques that will equip them with the tools they need to succeed on the SAT. Two diagnostic tests are included to gauge learners' progress.

The benefits of this course include:

- exploring all necessary SAT study content, timing, and test-taking strategies.
- learning essential math computations and formulas.
- reviewing top 100+ essential vocabulary words.
- access to full-length practice exams.
- improving overall study habits.
- identifying and reflecting on strengths and areas of development.

Learners should be prepared to provide their PSAT scores at the time of registration, complete two diagnostic tests the Saturdays after weeks three and six, complete homework exercises, and attend every session willing to participate in oral discussions.
