Week 2

LHEA Parent Newsletter

Welcome to this week's newsletter

This has been a quiet week in school in terms of events but there has been a great deal of positive activity in the classroom. Year 11 have made an excellent start to the last year of their GCSE study with a strong focus on revision skills led by our new Deputy Headteacher, Mr Weeks.

Please do spread the word regarding next week's Open Evening and encourage parents of Y6 students to attend. I would also like to thank you if you have given permission for your son or daughter to help out on the evening. Our students are our strongest selling point and visiting parents are always impressed by the way that they present themselves and the school.

Culture Curriculum at Lynch Hill Enterprise Academy

This week we have focused on how student answer questions in class. Students are becoming more familiar with the types of questions teachers are asking them and how they are being asked questioned. This is starting to make a real difference in how students pay attention and are ready to respond to questions.

Next week we will continue this theme, but add to this by teachers improving the way they respond to the student's answer. Students and staff need to be prepared that if there are students who do not know the answer to questions, then the teacher must re-explain and re-teach the information to ensure that every child in the class fully understands the lesson content.

Depending on the student responses to a question or set of questions, the teacher should then either:

- Re-teach content - if there are a large number of students in the class who have answered incorrectly
- Recap main point – if there are some parts of the content that students do not understand
- Re-teach certain individual – if there are a small number of students who have answered incorrectly
- Move on with content – if everyone understands

As families we would like you to support your child and the school in ensuring they have their learning wallets with them every day. These must contain a mini white board, black pen, green pen, ruler, rubber, pencil, mini white board rubber pen and their planner. Please speak to your child about the about routines and expectations and practice them at home if you can.
