THE FOXHOLE FLYER

PRINCIPAL MESSAGE

In virtual school, we tend to worry more about overall success in a semester class. However, progress towards completion is important and quarter grades are a useful indicator of student success thus far. My question for you is, do you know where your child is in their classes? Students should be around 40%-50% through their first semester course by the end of the first quarter.

All VOL students are expected to remain on pace in their classes, attend weekly live lessons, and participate in all state testing. As a school, we analyze student progress and performance data weekly for every class and work with teachers to identify students who need additional academic support. The only way to accurately determine a student's strengths and weaknesses and provide appropriate supports is if the student is working in their classes. Please help support our goal of providing effective and meaningful instruction by ensuring your child attends live lessons, participates in state testing, and remains on-pace in their classes. As Benjamin Franklin once said, "without continual growth and progress, such words as improvement, achievement, and success have no meaning."

Thank you for reading and have a great week!

IMPORTANT REMINDERS

Monday is a Professional Development Day for teachers; however, it is a holiday for students. Although students can work in their courses on Monday, teachers will be busy learning from each other. They will not be available to take phone calls or respond to emails and text messages. Classes will resume on Tuesday.

We are looking for interested parents and students to participate in SAC. If you would like to learn more about our school and share ideas with others, please join us on Wednesday, September 24th at 4:00 PM at our VOL HQ in DeBary.

We love to hear from you! If you have something positive to share about a teacher, course, or your experiences as a VOL student, please send us an email at volusiaonlinelearning@volusia.k12.fl.us.

Nikole was nominated by Mrs. Pearson, and is in Mrs. Pearson's Honors Biology class. Mrs. Pearson wrote: "Even though the semester has just started, Nikole has proven herself to be a very hard worker, and she has done exceedingly well in my class so far. When she did her DBA with me, it was one of the best DBA's I have had this year! Nikole demonstrated her knowledge of the topics, and showed mastery of all of the ideas. I am very proud of her and am so glad that she is one of my students this year!"
