Addendum 1
September 24, 2025

QUESTIONS

1. National Geographic/Cengage Learning is excited to work with you on the Request for Proposal #26009 Social Studies K12. With the outcomes of Monday's OK Supreme Court ruling to pause the new social studies standards, we are wondering if we should include in this RFP submission the standards correlation to the 2019 Social Studies Standards, continue with the newly created 2025 Social Studies Standards, or both?

Answer: Please provide correlation documents for 2019 Oklahoma Academic Standards for Social Studies and the Tulsa Public Schools' Essential and Supporting Standards.

2. Additionally, are there any changes or updates to the RFP timeline or evaluation criteria in light of this ruling?

Answer: Currently, the district's RFP remains open and unchanged. Vendors should continue to demonstrate alignment to both the state's standards (as currently written) and the District's essential standards. While the state process is still evolving, the District's essential standards remain a stable foundation for alignment and will continue to guide the district's instructional expectations. If any legal or policy changes occur during the RFP window that directly affect instructional requirements, the district will issue an addendum and notify all vendors.

3. Could you please provide enrollment numbers for each of the requested courses, specifically AP?

Answer:

- AP African American Studies – 166 students
- AP Macro/Micro-Economics – 20 students
- AP Human Geography – 352 students
- AP Psychology – 97 students
- AP Government & Political Science – 391 students
- AP U.S. History – 785 students
- AP World History (Modern) - 395 students

Please note that there are no students currently enrolled in AP Comparative Government & Political Science or AP European History. However, these courses are listed in the District's course of study and may be offered in future years of the upcoming adoption cycle.

4. The course codes as shown in the attached image are from a link in the bid. it includes High School AP courses but the Curriculum Guide template required doesn't include these courses. Are AP courses being reviewed? Is the correlation of the AP submissions to the College Board CEDs sufficient or do we need to complete a curriculum guideline template for AP courses? If so, what template should be completed for each course?

AP Human Geography	37208
AP World History: Modern	37556
AP African American Studies	37029
AP Psychology	37333 or 37334
AP U.S. History	37471
AP United States Government and Politics	37251 or 37252
AP Comparative Government and Politics	37054
AP Microeconomics/AP Macroeconomics	37144 (Micro) / 37147 (Macro)

Answer: Yes, AP Courses are being reviewed. AP correlation document listing alignment to the AP Course Exam & Description is encouraged. No template is required for Advanced Placement courses.

5. Affidavit Requirement – Page 6 states:

"A notarized affidavit that all instructional material items are in final form on, or before 01/05/26 and will be available in print, and digital, at the date of the district's placement of orders."

Is there a specific affidavit form that must be completed to fulfill this requirement?
