"I love Mulgrave because it is a place where I can share my passion for my culture and language with everyone I meet. I enjoy teaching here because I can see the world from the various perspectives that my students bring with them.They come from such different countries and cultural backgrounds! I bring joy to my teaching, and I love that I can spread that joy to my students."

"Mulgrave's commitment to Truth and Reconciliation is just one of the reasons why I feel lucky to work at this school. Our teachers are given the opportunity to explore Indigenous Ways of Knowing through our 3 Pillars of Success: Engaging, Educating, and Experiencing. Values are at the core of our community and I feel grateful to work with staff and students who are eager and passionate to learn and grow as we each continue on our individual journeys."
