

Bolles Student Life Expo Highlights Leadership and Community Service

More than 74 upper school service and special interest clubs were represented at the 2025 Bolles Student Life Expo last month.

Bolles students had the opportunity to learn about the broad spectrum of clubs and organizations, speak with student leaders, and join initiatives at tables in front of Bolles Hall on Thursday, Sept. 11.

These initiatives ranged from Pets for Patients and Nanny's Nation to French Club and Characters for Care. The clubs at The Bolles School are led by students who lead organizational efforts from fundraisers to community service events and other programming throughout the school year.

Though not a requirement at Bolles, community service is a way for students to make a difference in their community, and many find motivation in the power of affecting positive change while committing to The Bolles Way of "pursuing excellence through courage, integrity and compassion."
