RE: Lin-Wood Public School, Statement of Non-Asbestos Containing Building Materials

Dear Peter Stivali:

The space occupied by Lin-Wood Elementary School, and the common areas used by the students including hallways, was built in 1991, including walls and ceilings with carpeting and flooring replacements made over time. As the Director of Buildings and Grounds of the Lincoln-Woodstock Cooperative School District, I state that no asbestos containing building materials were specified or used in the construction or renovations, and to the best of my knowledge, no asbestos containing materials are present in the space occupied by Lin-Wood Elementary School.

Sincerely,

Mark Houde
Director of Buildings and Grounds
Lincoln-Woodstock Cooperative School District
