Missouri Option Program

Information & Application

MISSION

The Francis Howell School District has implemented the Missouri Option Program for those students who, for whatever reason, are not able to graduate with their cohort group. Also, the program is for those who would like to come back and re-enroll as a student to achieve their high school diploma. The FHSD Missouri Option Program is committed to helping those students who have realized the importance of earning a high school diploma achieve their dream of being a high school graduate.

 - It is not the responsibility of the MO OP Coordinator to collect fines. It is up to the sending school to collect any fines due.
- The completed application is then sent to the MO OP Coordinator by the student's counselor / principal
- After the MO OP application is reviewed, the student will take part in an interview with the Missouri Option Coordinator.
 - o During this time the student will also take a locator test over reading and mathematics to determine if the student is at a 10th grade reading and 8th grade math level (the test is 100 questions - 50 reading & 50 applied math).

- If the student has a 504 plan or an IEP, the 504 plan or IEP must be sent to the Missouri Option Coordinator in order for it to be reviewed by the FHU Special Education teacher to determine the type of interventions or accommodations the student will be eligible to receive for the HiSET test

Procedure and Requirements for Graduation

- The student will not receive their diploma until their cohort group's graduation date (Either December or May). They may receive a copy of their transcript showing that all coursework is completed and a diploma will be issued in December or May.

- Those students whose cohort group has already graduated and have all of the criteria for graduation completed are eligible to receive their diploma upon completion of the program, regardless of when during the school year that may be. These students are allowed and encouraged to walk in the FHU / MO OP graduation ceremony for that year.

End of Course Exams (EOC)

Frequently Asked Questions

(Partially taken from: http://dese.mo.gov/divcareered/Missouri_option_faq.htm)

The Missouri Option Program is available in participating public school districts and eligible agencies during the regular school year. To offer this program, local schools must meet requirements established by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. Participation is voluntary for schools and students.

What is the Missouri Option Program?

The Missouri Option Program is designed to target students who have the capabilities to complete Missouri High School Graduation Requirements, but for a variety of reasons lack the credits needed to graduate with their class and are at risk of leaving school without a high school diploma.

The program specifically targets those students who are 17 years of age or older and are at least one year behind their cohort group or for other significant reasons identified in the local Missouri Option Program plan.

Note: For the Missouri Option Program, cohort is defined as when a student started kindergarten, not high school.

Does the military accept the Missouri Option Program diploma?

Yes, but with some caveats:

- Marines – Accepted, but cannot start until diploma is issued
- Army – Accepted with an ASVAB score of 50 or higher
- Navy – Accepted
- Air Force – Accepted

Do Colleges / Universities accept the Missouri Option Program diploma?

Yes, but not all. I have contacted a number of universities in the area to request their entrance requirements for Missouri Option Program graduates; below are a couple of examples. If you are interested in attending a college / university and you would like me to check on their specific entrance requirements, I'd be happy to, just let me know.

- University of Missouri, Columbia (Mizzou) - At least a 15 on each subtest
- Lindenwood University – Admissible on a case by case basis
- University of Missouri, St. Louis (UMSL) – At least a 15 on each subtest AND at least a 24 on the ACT
- Southeast Missouri State University (SEMO) – At least a 15 on each subtest AND at least an 18 on the ACT

When did the Missouri Option Program begin in Missouri?

In 2002 the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education initiated the Missouri Option Program. The program is approved by the American Council on Education (owners of the GED Tests) and the Missouri State Board of Education.

How does the Missouri Option Program benefit a school?

School Districts approved by DESE to participate in the Missouri Option Program can continue to receive average daily attendance funds for the participating students. Additionally, students remain in school and are not required to dropout when it is time to take the HiSET. Once the school district issues a High School diploma, participants are then counted as graduates.

Note: The FHSD Missouri Option Program diploma is a regular high school diploma; it is not “other” or “alternative”. The diploma awarded to graduates of the FHSD Missouri Option Program is exactly the same as a diploma awarded at one of the traditional high schools, the only difference being that it is awarded by the Francis Howell School District, not by a specific high school.

How does the Missouri Option Program benefit a student?

Students in the Missouri Option Program will be provided guidance and counseling services consistent with the high school program. Ongoing academic/career advisement will be provided by the Missouri Option Program instructor(s), with supplemental guidance and counseling provided, as needed. Students will have access to all educational programs and services available in the school district, have the opportunity to stay in school, receive valuable academic and life-skills instruction, earn a High School diploma, and have the option of taking part in commencement ceremonies.

What is required of Missouri Option Program students?

A minimum of 15 hours of academic instruction per week will be provided. Students must also be enrolled in other school supervised instructional activities (career education courses, elective classes, work experience, etc.) that lead to student's classification by the district as a full-time student. The school district/eligible agency should provide a level and quality of education that ensures the integrity of the Missouri Option Program and locally issued High School diploma.

School districts may have additional requirements when issuing a regular high school diploma that is consistent with what is required of all students. They must take the EOC tests appropriate for their age/grade level. They must take a course in government and the functions of government and pass the required tests related to the U.S. and Missouri Constitutions. In addition, they must participate in appropriate substantive counseling and life-skills training that will assist them with job-readiness, financial management and independent living skills.

If a student takes the HiSET, what documentation will the district receive from the state verifying the students results?

The HiSET test is designed to measure the major academic skills and knowledge associated with a high school program of study. Students enrolled in the Missouri Option Program take (and pass) the HiSET Test to demonstrate and document the attainment of high school-level skills. The HiSET score report is one of the academic components required for the awarding of a high school diploma by the local district, and as such, is placed in the student's permanent record.

What are some common misconceptions about the Missouri Option Program?

The Missouri Option Program is NOT an "early out" program or "easy out" alternative. Schools that attempt to use it for these purposes will be disqualified. It is specifically intended to meet the needs of students who are credit-deficient (for whatever reasons), but who otherwise could be expected to meet regular graduation requirements. This program is NOT just intended to prepare students for the HiSET Test; it must provide substantive academic content aligned with the school's regular curriculum and expectations. Students must attend school regularly and have access to the kind of counseling and support services that are available to all students.

What are the requirements for the faculty in the Missouri Option Program?

Teachers working in this program must have a valid Missouri teaching certificate in any secondary-level area or in Adult Education and Literacy (AEL). AEL certification is not required if the educator already has a valid teaching certificate.

Note: Mr. DeSpain (MO OP Coordinator, 2009/10 - Present) holds a Bachelor's Degree in History and a Master's Degree in Education from Truman State University. Prior to his taking over the Missouri Option Program, Mr. DeSpain taught World History at FHHS.
