

May is Mental Health Awareness Month

Dear Pine-Richland Families,

As Pine-Richland embraces the growth of our students and the vibrant energy that comes with the end of the school year, we pause to recognize May as Mental Health Awareness Month.

Right: Pine-Richland High School's Peer2Peer Club hosted their annual Color Run on Sunday to promote suicide prevention awareness.

We remain committed to fostering a supportive environment where every student feels valued, heard, and empowered to seek help when needed.

Together, we all play a vital role in promoting students' mental well-being, both inside and outside of the classroom.

As we approach summer break, we want to remind families that Mental Health Matters year-round. A continuum of resources and support is available to students and families throughout the school year and during the summer months.

Over the summer months, our school psychologists are available for additional resources and/or questions.

What to Do and How to Get Help?

As a first option, we encourage our students to talk with one trusted adult at home and school.

Call 911 if there is any indication that danger appears immediately.

Do NOT leave the child alone until his or her safety is made certain.

Directly report a potential concern to the Northern Regional Police Department at 724-625-3157 or 911.

Student Assistance Program (SAP)

Students in grades K-12 are supported through this systematic team approach to navigate school and mental health resources for families and remove barriers to a child's learning and mental health treatment. You can find information about Pine-Richland's SAP and team members for each school building, along with resource numbers at Student Assistance Program Overview.

Suicide Prevention and Intervention (K-12)

We encourage all parents, school staff and students to review Preventing Youth Suicide: Tips for Parents and Educators. Students who are experiencing suicidal ideation often do not directly seek help. Parents, school personnel and others can help recognize the warning signs and observe changes in behavior. More information on what to look for is available at Suicide Awareness Policy and Resources.

Grief Resources (K-12)

Pine-Richland partners with the Highmark Caring Place to provide support, grief resources and materials, consultation services, educational training and peer support groups. Please reach out to your school counselor for assistance in getting started.

Crisis Center North

The district has a partnership with Crisis Center North to provide support to our students and families counseling services and support those who have experienced trauma and/or violence.

RAMS Way (K-12)

Pine-Richland has a district-wide positive behavioral support and intervention program called RAMS Way that encourages a positive and safe environment for both students and staff members, both virtually and in person.

Resources for Families

The Pennsylvania Department of Education has a list of Resources to Support Families for support, services and information that can help children and families with basic needs (food, child care, shelter, unemployment compensation, utility assistance, medical assistance, internet safety). PA 211 is an easy-to-remember telephone number and web resource for finding health and human services for everyday needs and crisis situations.

GoGuardian Parent App

Having extra time over the summer break can be enjoyable, but it can also increase moments of social media exposure for our students, both positive and negative. We encourage you to engage in family-centered activities while also monitoring your child's social media activity. Please reference GoGuardian on district-owned devices to help protect our students and as part of our compliance with the Child Internet Protection Act (CIPA). GoGuardian currently alerts school psychologists and counselors when a student searches online for terms or views content related to subjects of self-harm, suicide, violence, weapons, bullying, or illegal substances. The GoGuardian Parent app (available for download for iOS/Android) allows parents access to their child(ren)'s browsing history on district-issued devices. Currently, you may log into this app to view all browsing activity.
