CLOSING REMARKS

RAEGAN RYAN

DEBORAH GRANGER HISTED (1973)

As a 1973 graduate of Angelica Central School, Debbie was a standout player on the girls' basketball team, earning the title of Most Valuable Player (MVP).

She continued her athletic career at Alfred State College, where she graduated in 1975. Once again, her skills on the court earned her MVP honors in college basketball as well. After college, she tried out for the 1976 U.S. Women's Olympic Basketball Team, making it to the final round of cuts from a pool of 1,600 hopefuls—a testament to her abilities and competitive spirit. She also served as a head coach and assistant coach for the basketball team at Angelica Central School.

Beyond her athletic achievements, Debbie was a devoted wife and mother. She married John Histed and together they raised three sons: Adam, Sean, and Lee. Tragically, Debbie's life was cut short in the fall of 1994 due to a construction accident.
