Mission

We will provide relevant, rigorous, and engaging instruction as we develop positive relationships with students, such that students are prepared to cope with life's challenges and ensure that each of our diverse students graduates in four or five years with an associate's degree or college credit to prepare to be resilient, productive global citizens.

Vision

We will provide an environment where students will be successful. We will nurture positive relationships within our educational family. Our students, staff members, parents, and college staff colleagues will work to provide relevant and rigorous experiences for students within a safe environment.

The Middle College at GTCC-Jamestown is a high school specifically for students in grades 9-13 who have the ability to do honors or higher-level academic work when provided with a supportive environment and small classroom setting. We serve first-generation college students, underrepresented populations, and students who may need a non-traditional environment. As one of the first high schools in North Carolina to become a New Schools innovative high school (2005), The Middle College at GTCC-Jamestown is a pioneer.
