Seniors - if you're not sure about what you want to do after you graduate, the U. S. Army National Guard might be for you. The National Guard is only one weekend a month and two weeks a year of training. This allows you to have a full time job and earn some extra money. Benefits include paying for school, health insurance, and retirement. You also have the option of becoming a full time member of the Army National Guard. They're in the cafeteria today during lunch periods looking for someone who is "Always ready, Always there!"
