

DCSC CONSTRUCTION UPDATE

Update #20

October 2025

New and exciting changes are taking place every day! At DCHS, we continue to see progress in many classroom and athletic spaces. We are also seeing great progress in our new media center and music rooms!

At the new transportation building site, things are starting to look less like dirt in a field and more like the foundation of a building! We are excited to see this work continue throughout the year and really take shape by the summer.

Keep reading for more detailed updates and photos of our progress!

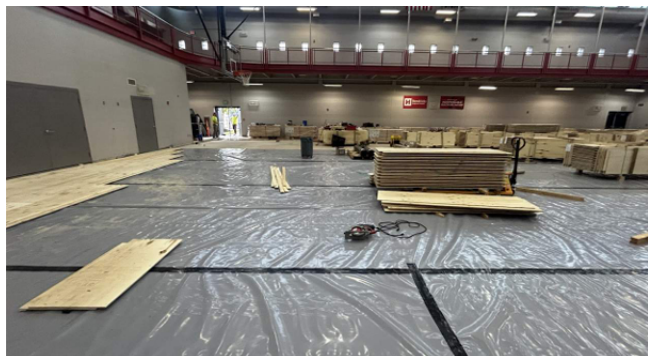

High School Progress

As we mentioned in our last update, opening our new classroom wing has given us the space and resources to begin renovating our older areas. In the section currently under construction, the bulkheads are being painted red, and several other design updates are underway.

We've also made great progress in the Aux Gym, a space that wasn't originally part of the construction plan. We're excited to see this area nearing completion and look forward to reopening it soon.

And for our biggest update this month: the DCHS pool is almost ready! The pool has been filled with water and treated with the necessary chemicals. Once tiling is placed, the bleachers are finished, and the bulkhead is installed, it will be ready for the 2025–26 swim season. To celebrate,

Principal Matt Clodfelter (a swim parent), HR Specialist Sarah Smith (also a swim parent), and Maintenance Director Richard Land (someone who spent countless hours fixing the old pool) jumped in the freshly filled pool! The water was cold, but all of them were still so happy to finally share this moment. Our swimmers get to do this next!

Don't worry, the water won't stay green.

Transportation

Right now, they are moving dirt and laying the foundation at our new transportation site. While we don't have any exciting progress photos so far, we want to share the full plans below!
