Social Media Community Standards

Covington Exempted Village Schools (CEVS) is proud to serve the students and families of our community and is committed to maintaining online platforms that are safe, respectful, and effective for all ages. Our pages provide information of public interest to students, parents, staff, and residents of Covington and the surrounding area.

We encourage community members to engage with us—ask questions, share thoughts, and interact with our posts in ways that support and enhance our school community.

We ask all staff, students, parents, community members, and visitors:

- Use good judgment when commenting or sharing information
- Be respectful and supportive of others
- Serve as positive role models for students
- Remember that children and families use our social media platforms

CEVS considers its social media pages to be moderated, limited public forums.

Accordingly, CEVS reserves the right to remove comments that are clearly off-topic or inappropriate, including but not limited to:

- Profane, obscene, or offensive language or content
- Content that promotes, fosters, or perpetuates prejudice or discrimination against protected classes
- Sexually harassing, lewd, bullying, harassing, or discriminatory content
- Conduct or encouragement of violence, criminal activity, or truancy
- Spam or comments containing links to external sites
- Commercial solicitations, advertisements, or endorsements
- Promotion of services, products, political candidates, or organizations
- Information that personally identifies students or infringes on their educational privacy rights
- Statements that are profane, slanderous, or defamatory toward CEVS staff or personnel

- Content that could compromise the safety or security of individuals, schools, or the district

Violations of these community standards may result in removal of comments. Repeated or serious violations may lead to users being blocked or further restricted from engaging with CEVS social media platforms.

Thank you for helping us maintain a positive, respectful, and supportive online community for all.

Covington Exempted Village Schools maintains an active presence on Facebook, Instagram, and other platforms to help our community stay informed and connected in real time.
