A Message from University School of Milwaukee

For all of the remarkable achievements University School of Milwaukee celebrated in 2024-25, we extend our heartfelt gratitude to our generous community of donors. Year after year, the steadfast commitment of alumni, parents, faculty, staff, grandparents, parents of alumni, and friends sustains our tradition of excellence and ensures that USM continues to deliver on its promise to prepare students for lives of purpose and impact.

Your support fuels our mission: to empower every student to think critically and solve problems; to cultivate the character, skills, confidence, and work ethic to contribute positively to society; and to lead fulfilling lives. In this publication of gratitude, we invite you to reflect on the generosity that shaped our community during the 2024-25 school year, through photos capturing USM's culture of philanthropy, recognition of annual and lifetime donors, and updates from the Parents' Association and Wildcats Booster Club.

Because of you, USM stands proudly as Milwaukee's premier preschool-through-secondary school and as one of the nation's leading college-preparatory institutions. Together, we are honoring our legacy while advancing our shared vision for the future—continuing to uphold the highest standards in learning, leadership, and citizenship for generations to come.

Your support sustains our proud tradition of excellence in education and empowers us to deliver an even stronger, more vibrant USM for the generations ahead.

Thank you for your support.

The USM Fund Supports USM's Excellence

We are deeply grateful to every member of the University School of Milwaukee community who generously supported the USM Fund, our annual giving program, during the 2024-25 school year. Your contributions have made countless critical enhancements visible across our campus. Equally significant are the many ways your support impacts what you don't see.

The USM Fund touches every aspect of the USM experience. It sustains our academic and extracurricular programs, helps minimize annual tuition increases, and supports faculty and staff salaries. It also ensures we can maintain and enhance our beautiful campus. As a flexible and vital resource, the USM Fund empowers our school to address immediate needs, prioritize innovative projects, and respond to opportunities that enrich our school community. Every gift contributes to the daily experiences of our students, shaping their learning and growth.

Whether you are a proud parent or grandparent, a dedicated employee, a loyal alum, or even a student, your support last school year made an extraordinary difference. Thank you for helping us continue to cultivate excellence in learning, leadership, and citizenship at USM.

Endowment Fund Report

University School of Milwaukee's endowment is an essential investment in the school's ability to maintain its leading edge as a nationally ranked independent school. From academics to athletics, and arts to innovation, life at USM is rich with activities as diverse as our student population. These valuable activities require funding to support the people and programs that contribute to the attainment of the school's annual objectives. The school's endowment, which originated with the predecessor schools and increases in value over time thanks to donor contributions and market growth, provides a significant portion of this funding annually. USM is grateful for all donors who have supported the endowment throughout the years, thus helping to increase the impact of the endowment now and in perpetuity.

As of June 30, 2025, USM's endowment was valued at $110 million and consisted of its general endowment and over 100 named funds established by USM donors to directly support school priorities. In keeping with our long-standing endowment policy, 5% of the average fund value from the trailing eight quarters is distributed to the fund's designated program, or in the case of the general endowment, to all aspects of the school's core mission. In this manner, the endowment inspires our community members to invest in an area of school life that is meaningful to them and their families while helping to educate USM students as learners, leaders, and citizens.

For independent schools like USM, endowment is the differentiator between sustaining and thriving. The National Association of Independent Schools (NAIS) has established a guideline that independent schools should aim to achieve an endowment valued at three times their annual budget in order to be a successful school into the next decade. USM's Endowment Board is led by Chairman Tom Florsheim '76 and is composed of former members of the Board of Trustees. The endowment is managed by Commonfund, a nonprofit investment management firm that serves over 2,000 independent schools, universities, and nonprofit organizations. The school's endowment policy follows a long-term investment strategy, calling for a 75/25 equity-to-fixed income ratio with meaningful international exposure and a careful commitment to alternative investments such as private equity. The thoughtful generosity of our donors allows the endowment to continue supporting our students and school of today and the future.

Senior Gift Program

The senior gift program seeks to empower student involvement in the gift process. Will Piper '96, assistant director of alumni relations and reunion giving, shares insights on USM's culture of generosity and the significance of philanthropy with the senior class. Seniors then meet to share ideas and insights on how they want to leave an impact on the school through their class gift.

Members of the Class of 2025 agreed to leave a large installation of USM letters, located near Don Forti Stadium and Liz Krieg Field, as their gift. After months of fundraising and planning, the letters were unveiled for the first time to seniors on Friday, May 23—their official last day of school.

The installation, which uses a logo from USM's new athletic brand, was designed and manufactured by Elevated Identity, a local company that makes large, exterior signage and has worked with groups like the Milwaukee Bucks. They add color and whimsy to campus and are the perfect backdrop for a post-win photo for student athletes and their families.

The senior gift appeal was a huge success, with 71 unique gifts totaling $22,542, which came close to funding the entire project. The letters have received very positive feedback from the senior families and the USM community.

"We are so grateful to members of the Class of 2025 and their families for supporting this gift," said Piper. "It will be enjoyed for years to come."

Parents' Association Report

USM's Parents' Association (PA) is an integral part of our school community, fostering a culture of generosity and building connections between parents and the school. Every parent or guardian is a member of the PA, and actively participating in this organization is a rewarding way for them to stay involved in their child's education and contribute to the school's overall success. Through various events and initiatives organized by the PA, parents have the opportunity to meet and collaborate with other parents, creating a strong sense of community within the school. Furthermore, the PA plays a crucial role in fundraising efforts, having donated over $900,000 in the last five years. Funds raised support PA-sponsored student and family activities and campus-wide initiatives made possible by the USM Fund. Through community, communication, collaboration, and contribution, the Parents' Association continues to demonstrate its commitment to our school and families.
